*Lucy, why is the sky blue?
Because it isn't green!!
That just shows how stupid I am
I thought there would be a more complicated reason.*

Charles M. Schulz

*The nineteenth autumn has come upon me
Since I first made my count*

William Butler Yeats

*The world is too much with us; late and soon,
Getting and spending, we lay waste our powers;
Little we see in Nature that is ours;*

William Wordsworth

*No man is an island entire of itself;
every man is a piece of the continent,
a part of the main.*

John Donne

*Thy woods, this autumn day, that ache and sag
AND ALL BUT CRY with color!*

Edna St. Vincent Millay

*Home is the place where, when you have to go there,
They have to take you in.*

Robert Frost

*This close-companioned inarticulate hour
When twofold silence was the song of love.*

Dante Gabriel Rossetti

*Some of us learn our lessons poorly,
Some of us learn them well.
Some of us find an earthly heaven
Some of us live in hell.*

Rod McKuen

*Come forth into the light of things;
Let Nature be your teacher.*

William Wordsworth

*Out, out brief candle!
Life's but a walking shadow, a poor player
That struts and frets his hour upon the stage
And then is heard no more. It is a tale
Told by an idiot, full of sound and fury,
Signifying nothing.*

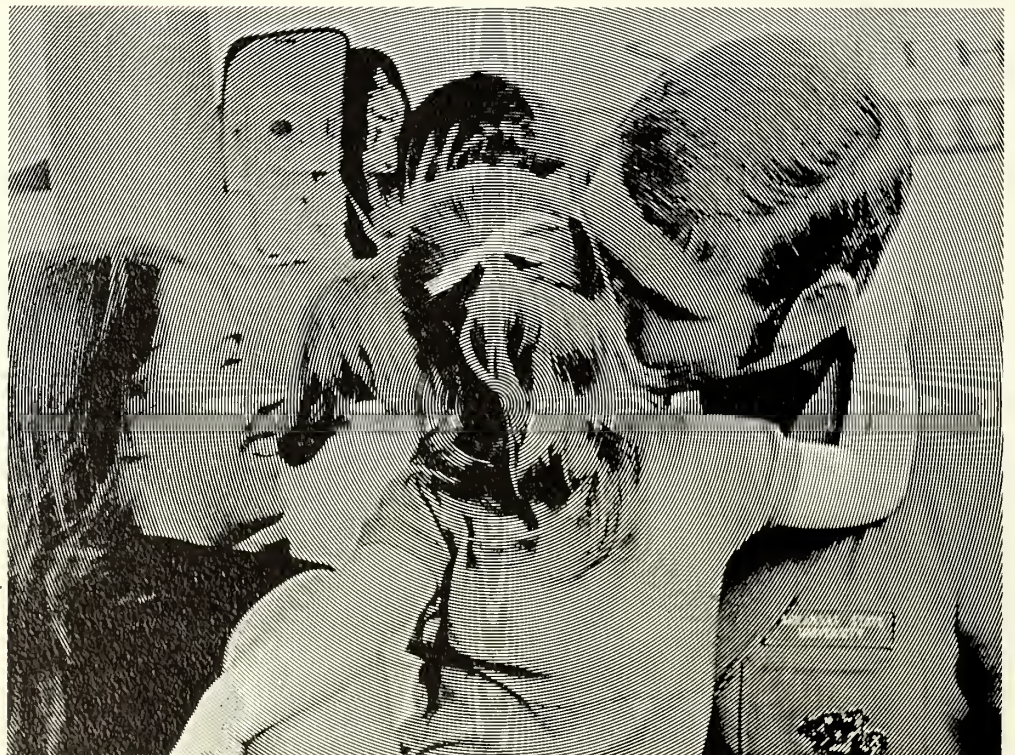

William Shakespeare

*He seldom spoke; but what he said was clear
And full of sense, so that you wished to hear;
Of high ideals and virtue was his speech
And gladly would he learn, and gladly teach.*

Geoffrey Chaucer

*A writing may be lost; a lie may be written;
But what the eye has seen is truth and remains in the mind!*

Joseph Conrad

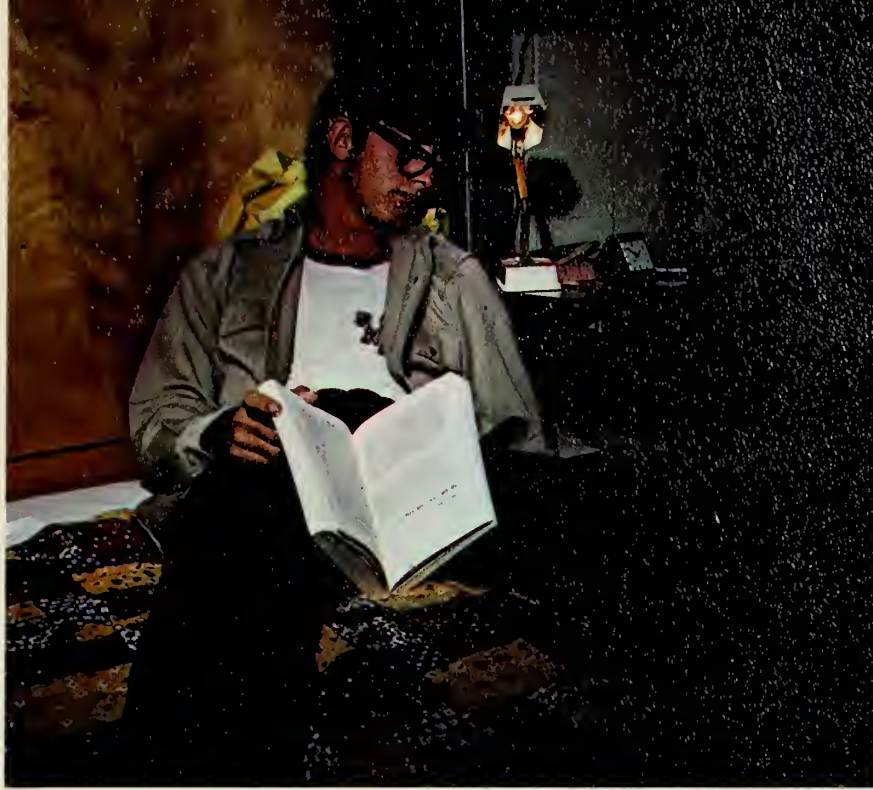

*Now you will not swell the rout
Of lads that wore their honors out,
Runners whom renown outran
And the name died before the man.*

A. E. Housman

*Toiling over a lump of clay
Till he shaped it in His own image;
Then into it He blew the breath of life,
And man became a living soul,
Amen. Amen.*

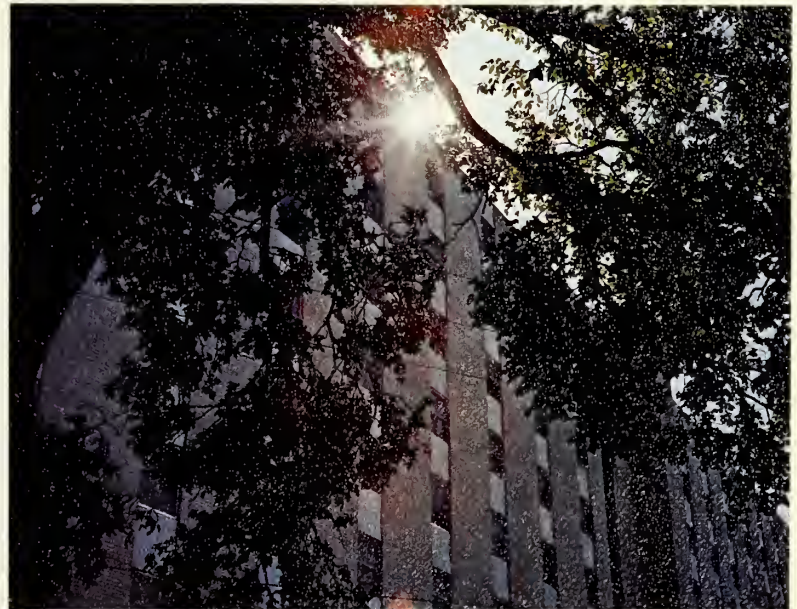

James Weldon Johnson

*Work—work—work,
Till the brain begins to swim;
Work—work—work,
Till the eyes are heavy and dim!*

Thomas Hood

*Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by
And that has made all the difference.*

Robert Frost

*We look before and after,
And pine for what is not . . .*

Percy Bysshe Shelley

I am a part of all that I have met.

Alfred, Lord Tennyson

*That man to man, the world o'er,
Shall brothers be for a' that.*

Robert Burns

The Year

Incoming freshmen are always awed by the length of the line. Little do they know that the worst is yet to come.

Record Enrollment Despite Hassle

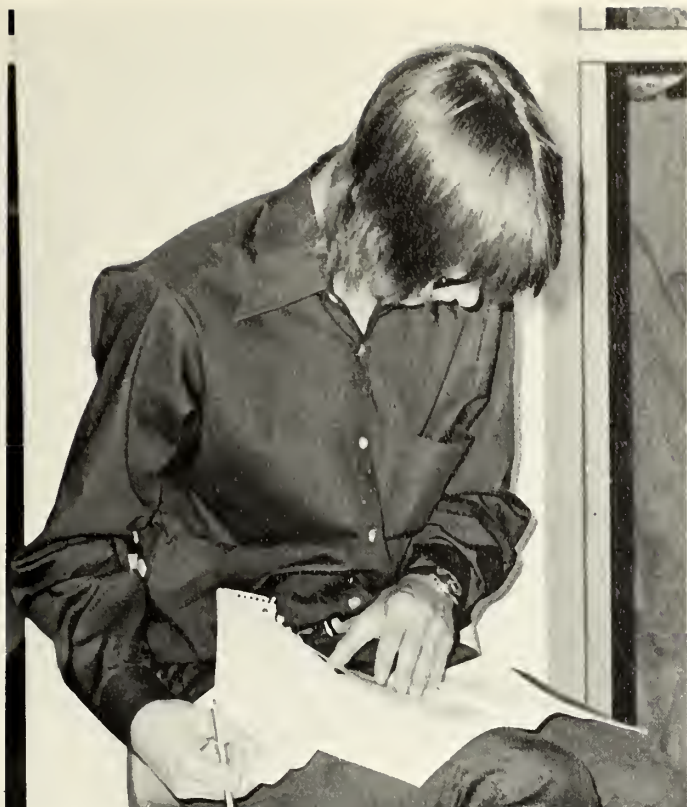

Once again, students from across the nation (mostly Arkansas and Missouri) swarmed the ASU campus in late August. Returning students dreaded registration. The poor, unsuspecting freshmen didn't know it would be any different than signing up in high school.

As usual, the line stretched from the cafeteria to the far end of the Danner Hall parking lot. More long lines, closed classes, computer cards and a photographer waited for the students inside.

After hours of rib-jamming, scheduling, writing, shin-kicking and rescheduling, students left their card packs with the man at the door. And a good time (?) was had by all.

By this stage of registration, nobody feels like smiling.

"To think that I was actually naive enough to think that I could get the classes I wanted!"

Buying books is a real pain—but compared to registration, it's nothing.

Three hours of pure misery—that's the way most students think of registration.

Agony

Students had to sit down anywhere they could find a place—not only to rest their feet, but to fill out more cards.

Josh, Nick Visit Campus

Students had the opportunity last fall to hear several lectures, though few actually did. Two of the prominent speakers to visit ASU were Josh McDowell and Dr. Nicholas Goncharoff.

McDowell, sponsored by the Campus Crusade for Christ, presented a series of lectures. The young evangelist, who ended his stay with a program concerning premarital sex, proved to be very popular.

A native of Kiev, Russia, Dr. Goncharoff gave two lectures on successive days. The political scientist spoke to interested students about the youth of Russia.

"Yes, Russia is a nice place to visit; but I wouldn't want to live there."

Josh McDowell seems to be saying (below) "Who, me?" and (above) "Yes, you!"

Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, 1971—What better way to spend an autumn evening!

Student Body Loves 'Dirt'

Many students did not know what to expect when the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band rolled into town for the first big concert of the new school year. Most of those who had doubts about the quality of entertainment they were getting were pleasantly surprised.

The Dirt Band did not have a long list of hits, unlike Johnny Rivers, the Brooklyn Bridge and some of the other talent that has appeared at ASU. But they had one thing going for them—showmanship.

The student body jammed into Indian Field House prepared for anything. They got a little of everything. The guys on stage went wild with their comedy antics and mixed it with plenty of good, down-to-earth "dirty" music.

Most of the students loved it. Many students, who had heard very little Dirt Band music before, left the gym that night proclaiming the concert as one of the best ever at ASU.

Perhaps one student summed it up best when, while leaving the concert, said, "I never knew you could get high on dirt until tonight."

This music man discovered that a beard makes a perfect "fiddler's chin cushion."

The Dirt Band got down to the "nitty gritty" with a 1950's routine featuring the ever-popular "Teenangel."

Students left the concert knowing what promotional posters had meant by "the insane comedy" of NGDB.

Pep Rallies Relocated

Many of these students are wondering why they are yelling "go, fight, win" when there is not even a game in progress.

"OK, if any of you girls recognize any of these men, call his number and I'll have him step forward."

The ASU male cheerleaders demonstrate how to defend against the flying headscissors.

"This is one way to get those cocky roaches out of their little cracks and crevices."

ASU—Work, Play, Education

Halftime entertainment at the basketball games vary. Here, the Reng Rifles perform.

Some students found sitting in the grass a relaxing way to spend a lazy afternoon.

There was always plenty of work to be done.

It seemed that everyone wanted money.

Dr. John Tyson spoke about sex as a part of the lecture-concert series.

Typical of the night life at ASU.

The Bridal Fair gave coeds a chance to look at garments other than wedding dresses.

Mayhem, Inc., did more than their share to entertain ASU students.

One of the many wedding gowns that matrimonial enthusiasts cooed over.

Dr. Melvyn Freed, vice-president for administration, meets the press.

Dr. F. Clark Elkins also answered questions thrown at him by SGA and SDX members.

Rain Fails To Dampen LR Spirits

Something always happens to hurt the attendance at the annual Little Rock football game. Last Oct. 23, it was rain, rain and more rain.

Throngs of Indian backers from Northeast Arkansas followed their team to the capital city, and some even came to the game. Spirits ran high at the stadium, but those "loyal" fans who stayed in their motel rooms, refusing to brave the chilly downpour, also had their share of "spirits."

The crowd, including a group of weary Sig Eps that ran from Jonesboro to Little Rock with the game ball, began to storm the city Saturday morning. The weatherman blessed everyone with sunny skies for the afternoon pep rally, which was held downtown at Worthen Plaza.

Soon the sun disappeared behind some wicked-looking black clouds—perhaps an omen of things to come for the Abilene Christian Wildcats. By kickoff, the city was drenched, and the rain was still pouring.

The miserable weather, coupled with the fact that Little Rock always was a "Razorback town," resulted in a somewhat miserable turnout. The stay-at-homes did not realize that they would miss ASU's best game of the year.

Huddled under umbrellas, space blankets and other water-resistant materials, the fans watched as James Hamilton lofted four long scoring bombs to pace the Tribe to a whopping win over ACC.

With the game finally over, A-State students returned to their hotel rooms to celebrate the big win.

Rain, smiles, spirit(s), touchdowns and parties—all were a part of the weekend in Little Rock.

The Indian family attracted quite a bit of attention at the pep rally—especially from the local yokels.

With spirit like this, he may be one of the Indians' future All-Americans.

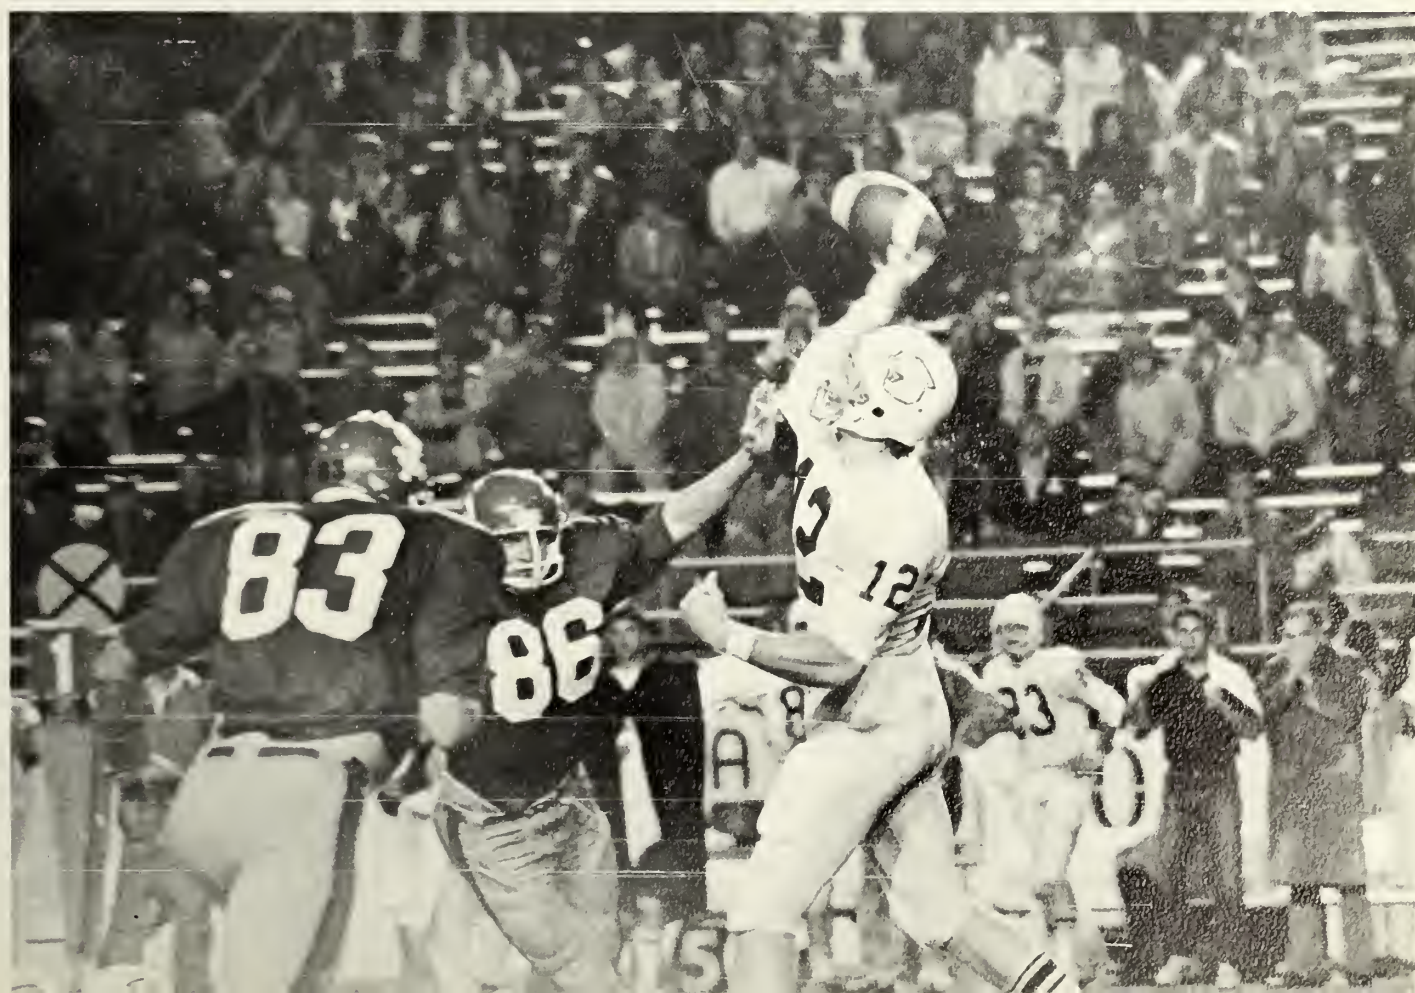

Who says nothing is free anymore?

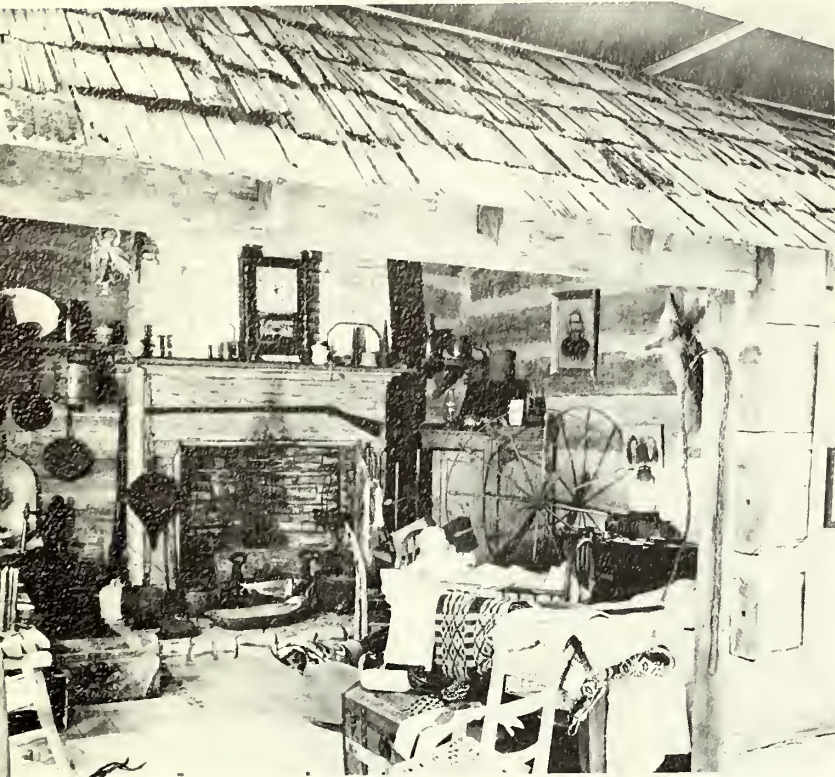

All a guy had to do to find the pep rally was follow his ears.

He should know not to pass with Meyer, Johnson, Beshears and Whiting roaming around back there.

Museum—Growing And Changing

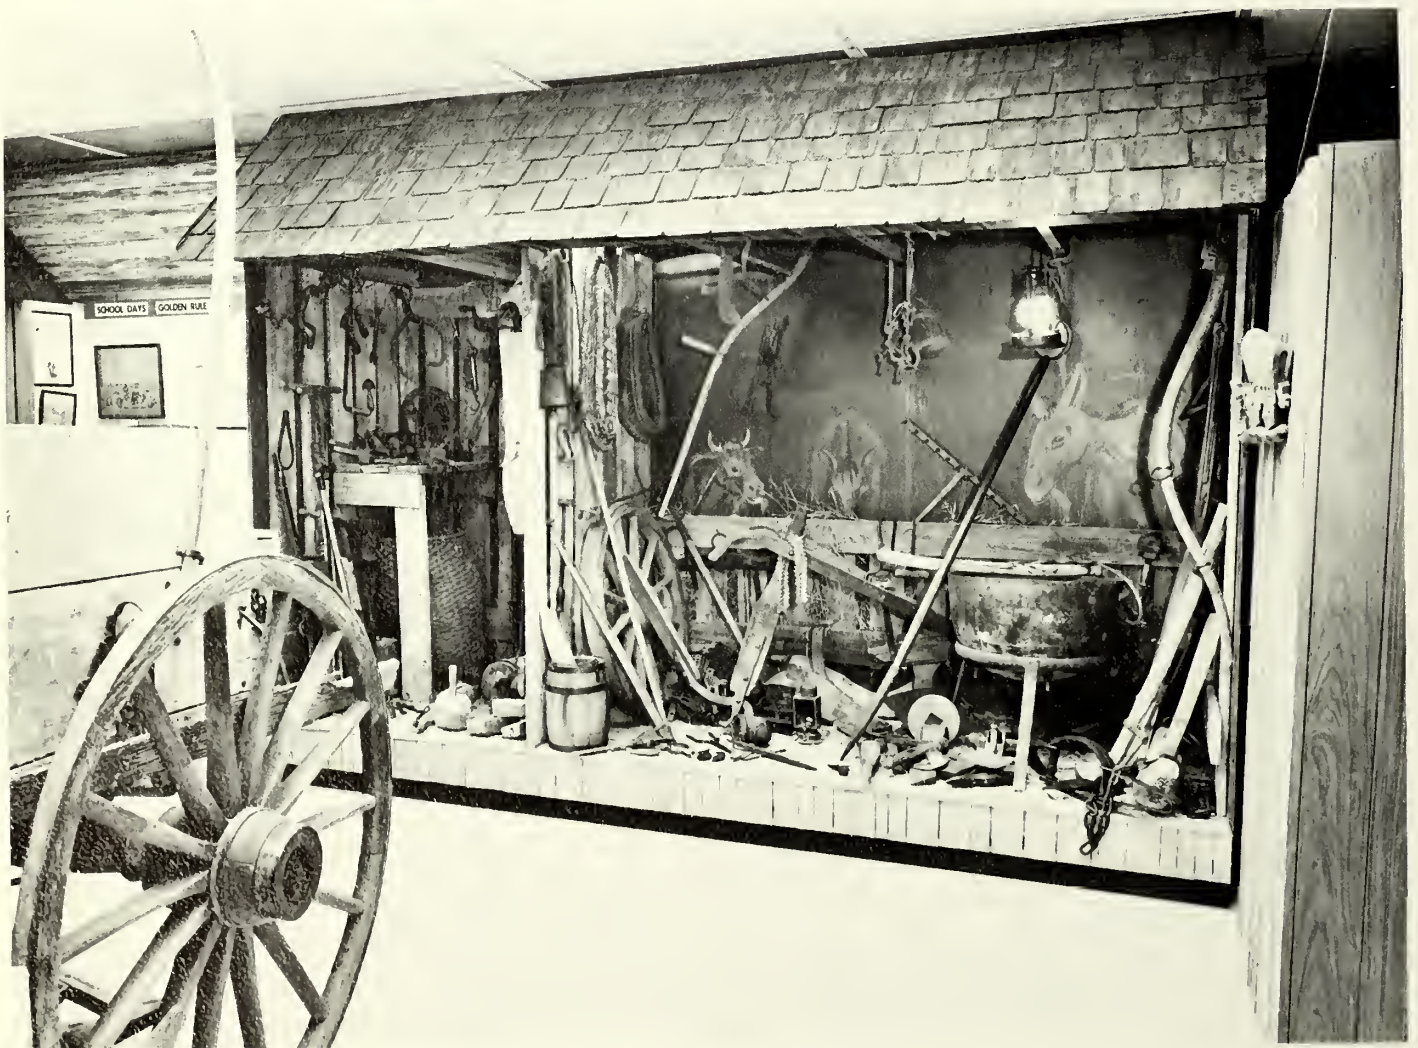

In an effort to keep up with the steady progress being made by the University, the ASU Museum, now completing 36 years of service to the student body, staff and public, continues to add new display cases and exhibits each year.

Housed in the Dean B. Ellis Library, the Museum has become a student-evolved and student-involved activity. Through a part-time labor budget allowance and college work-study, the Museum seeks to engage the best efforts of talented students for maintenance of the facility.

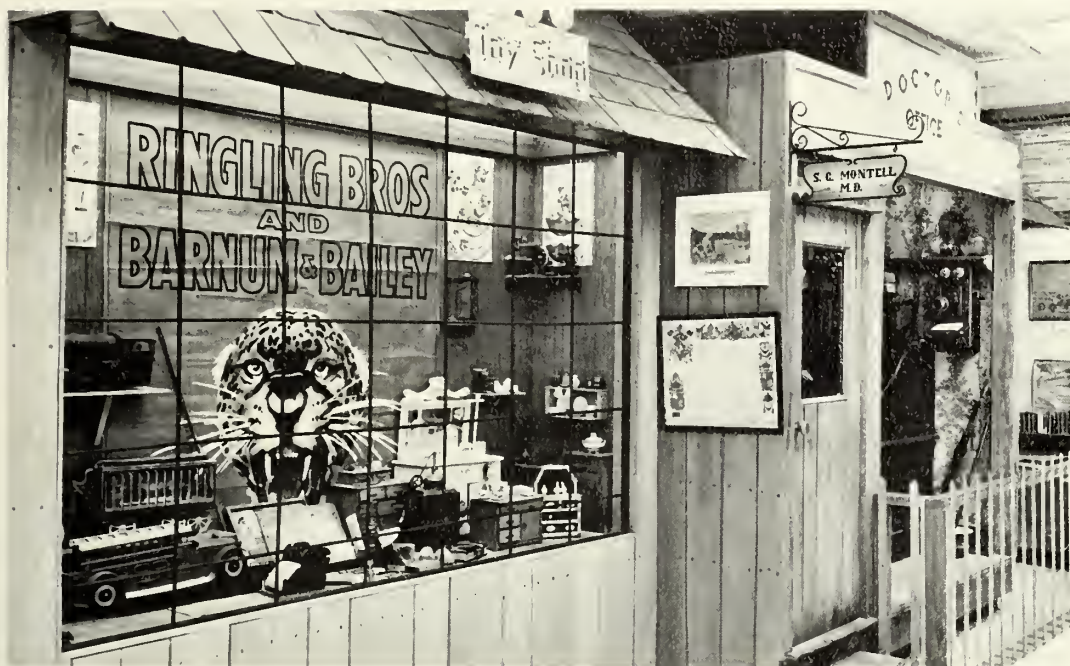

Attendance for 1971 reached 14,190, and listings have surpassed 15,000 catalogued items. Perhaps the greatest and most needed service of the future will be museum courses for academic credit. With these will eventually come expansion in space and increased productivity.

Homecoming—An Exciting Week

Homecoming gave many students an opportunity to discover that work can be fun. Just when it appeared that many of the organizations on campus would abandon the tradition of building Homecoming displays, University officials announced that they would subsidize the displays.

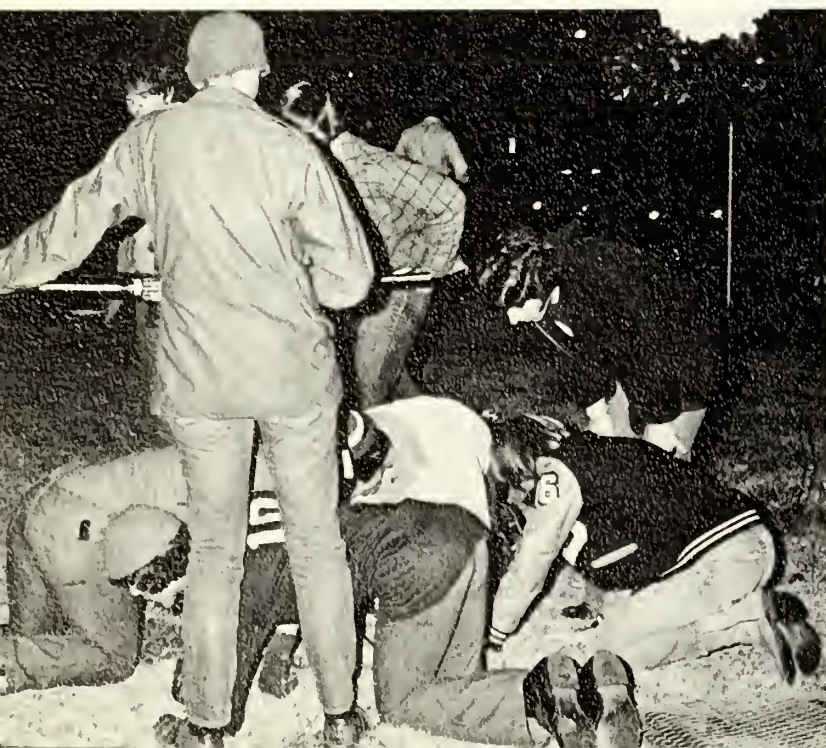

So, just like in the past, students drew up plans, purchased materials, donned their "grubbies" and began to build displays. Students found true joy in staying up all night, freezing to death, eating stale doughnuts, stuffing tissue in chicken wire and missing class the next day.

The Indians won the ball game, the concert was great, and the week ended with a "bang" when a fraternity display exploded.

"Why does everyone claim to have acrophobia this time of year?"

"Gee, you hammer like lightning!"

Button, button, who's got the button?

The first few days of Homecoming week was more work than play for many students.

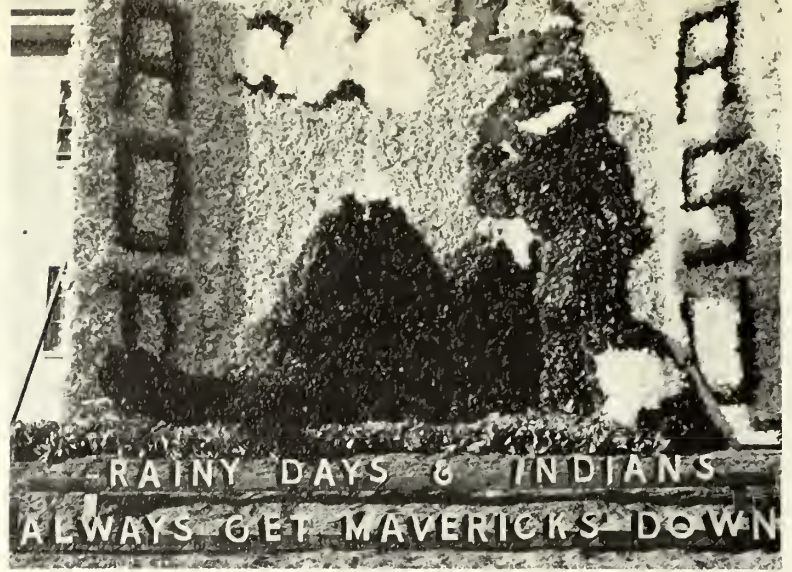

Cigars . . . cigarettes ?

"I wonder if anyone would miss me if I slipped under here and took a nap?"

Alpha Omicron Pi won top honors in the stationary with lights category with the theme "Rainy Days and Indians Always Get Mavericks Down."

This display captured first place in the mechanical with lights division for Kappa Alpha.

Many students took time between classes to look at the wide variety of displays on campus.

The Arlington pass rush wasn't quite good enough to stop this James Hamilton pass.

The Homecoming Court seems satisfied with the game, but dissatisfied with the sun.

Jonesboro firemen were allowed to take part in Homecoming activities.

And A Good Time Was Had By All

They asked for panties, but they got toilet paper.

A frustrated dorm resident finds that kicking just causes broken toes and more frustration.

"It's no 'Vette' but it gets me there and back."

Campus Life—Kicks For Everyone

Apartment parties are great—especially if it's someone else's apartment.

"Okay, right pocket pass on down. And let's have some blockin' this time!"

“Streetcar” Goes Regional

Rebecca Boyles as Blanche DuBois (below) tries to snow her brother-in-law Stanley Kowalski (Terry Goodman) and (right) does a better job with Mitch (Phil Smith). Stella (Janet Thompson) breaks down (above) after learning that Blanche will be sent away.

Passers-by, especially girls from Arkansas Hall, were "helped along their way" by "friendly" football players.

The Snows Of ASU

Some peace lovers avoided snowball fights.

Coach Tomlinson could use another good southpaw.

Looks like the poor girl is outnumbered.

Never a dull moment when it snows.

They had to take out their hostilities on someone . . . so why not on each other?

Parade, Caroling Stir Yule Spirit

Music and cheerful spirits, despite final exams and bitter cold weather, filled the air at ASU as Christmas approached.

The annual Christmas parade, featuring the ASU band, ROTC jocks (both male and female), and other organizations was once again a success. After all, it WAS on TV.

Many organizations participated in the caroling on the Reng Center lawn. The ATO's were thinking of other kinds of spirits when they sang of "tidings of comfort" at Roys.

The youngsters were entertained by students dressed up as kings, angels, and Disney characters. Meanwhile, the older kids listened to some good, old-fashioned Christmas songs.

Various organizations (above) participated in the annual caroling on the Reng Center front yard. The ROTC jocks chipped in their two cents worth by marching in the parade.

"Oh, you're kidding. You're not REALLY voting for HIM are you?"

Students got the thrill of using a voting machine for the first time in their lives.

It seems as if students at ASU spend half of their time standing in line.

USA Party Dominates Elections

Campaign workers swarmed the campus once again last spring, handing out cards and trying to persuade the student body to vote in the SGA elections.

By the time election day arrived, everyone knew about the elections. However, very few showed up at the polls to vote.

The United Student Alliance dominated the elections, landing candidates in the top three positions. Mike Worley was elected president, Thomas Hayes first vice-president, and Cindy Truxton second vice-president.

Every candidate for every position seemed to have plenty of campaign help.

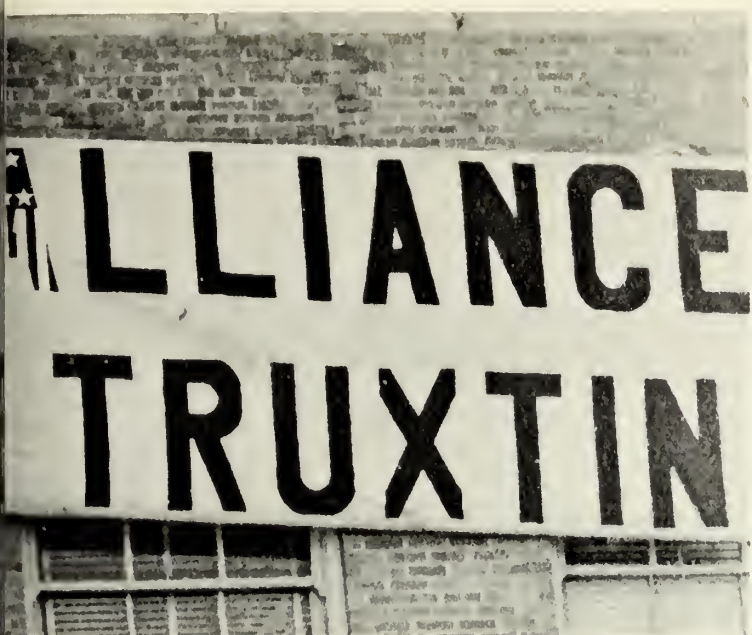

Not many people came near the polls, so a group of campaign workers scans the campus for prospective voters.

UNITED STUDENT WORLEY HAYES

This student discovered that only an octopus has enough arms when it is time for SGA elections.

Students were approached from all sides by campaign workers and politicians.

Murder In The Mad House!

Three nuclear physicists in a mad house provided the setting for "The Physicists," a play sponsored by the Division of Speech and Drama.

One of the physicists thought he was Newton, another Einstein, and the third physicist, who had been in the mad house for 15 years, had visions of King Solomon.

About 20 cast members took part in the play.

Lee Griffin, playing the part of an inspector, questions the doctor, Richard Emerson, about a murder.

The inspector gets the run-around from Roger Bumpass, who thinks he's Newton.

The nurse, Abby Brown, tries to persuade Byl Harrell (Einstein) to run off with her.

Bob Dale, who played the other "mad" person, looks on as the murdered nurse is loaded on the cart.

Ted Boswell Meets The Press

As Ted Boswell, U. S. Senatorial candidate (below) answers questions from a panel of interested students. Some students (right) find more interest in a card game.

Boswell (left) was also "carried" on KASU and (bottom) made some points to members of the SGA and SDX. He talks with philosophy instructor Bill Stroud (below left).

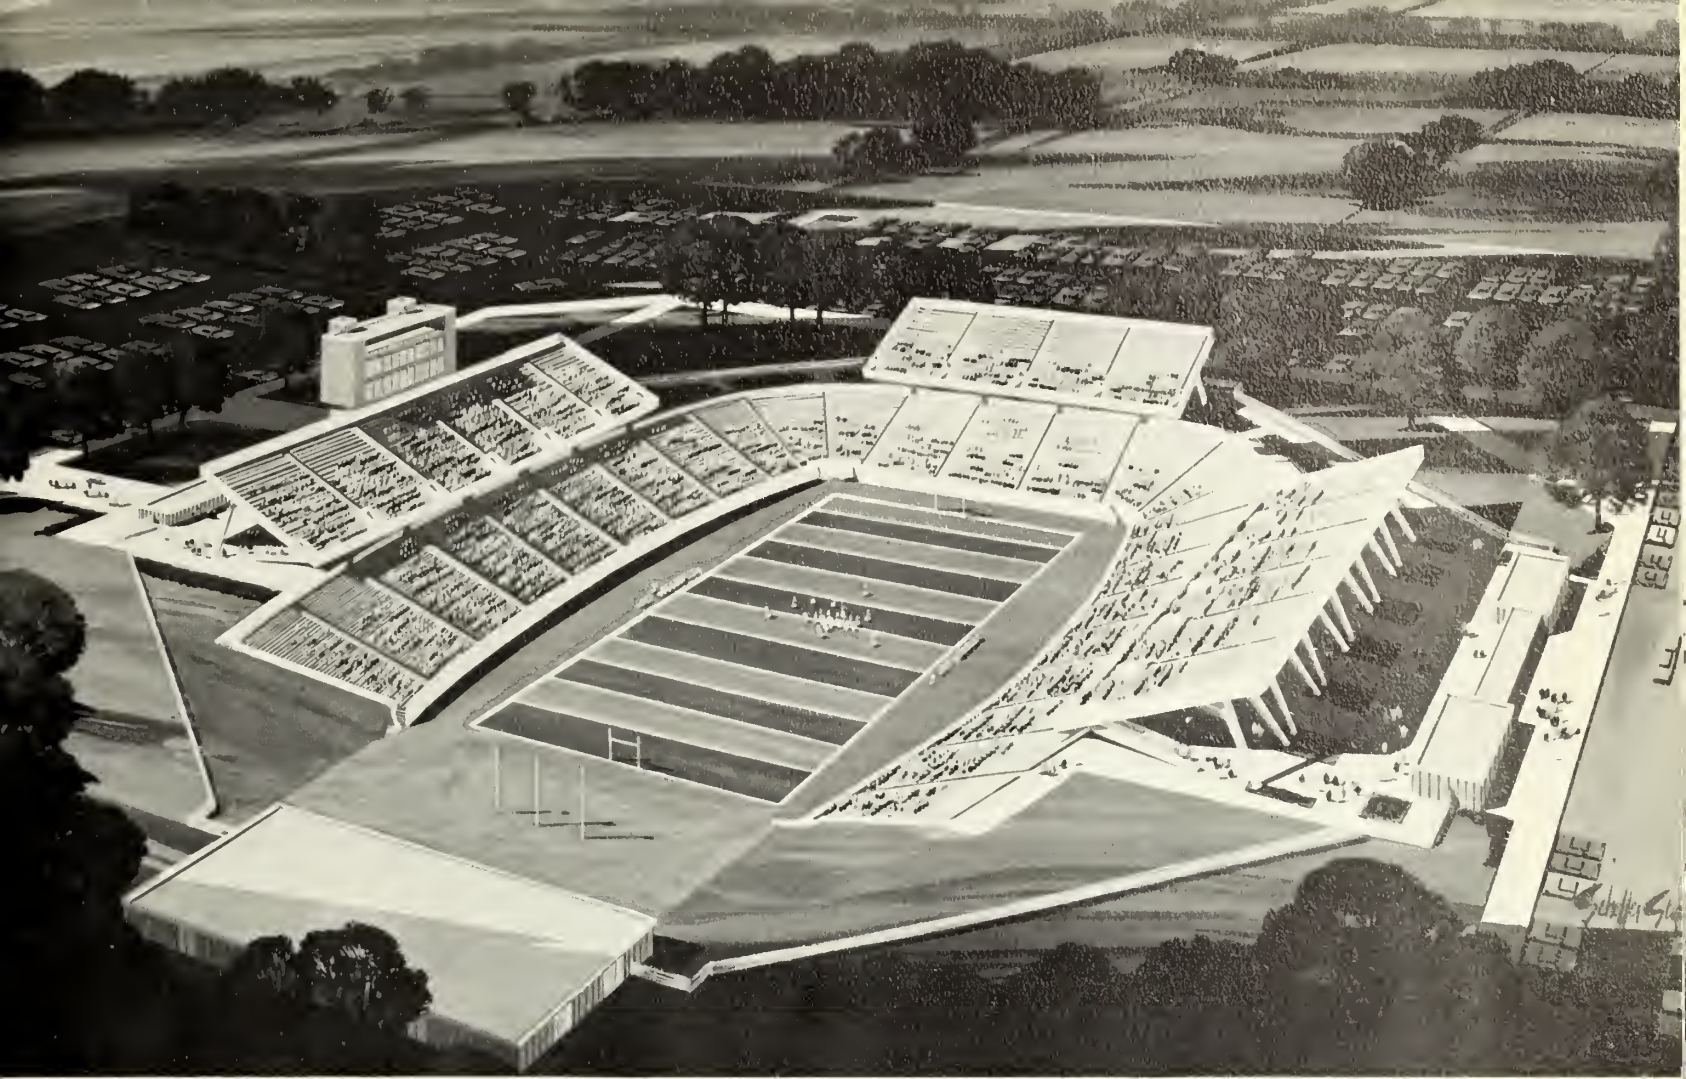

Drive For Stadium Funds Begun

A report meeting as to the status of the fund drive on campus has its serious side (right) and its lighter side (below) as committee members take up pennies to round out the totals.

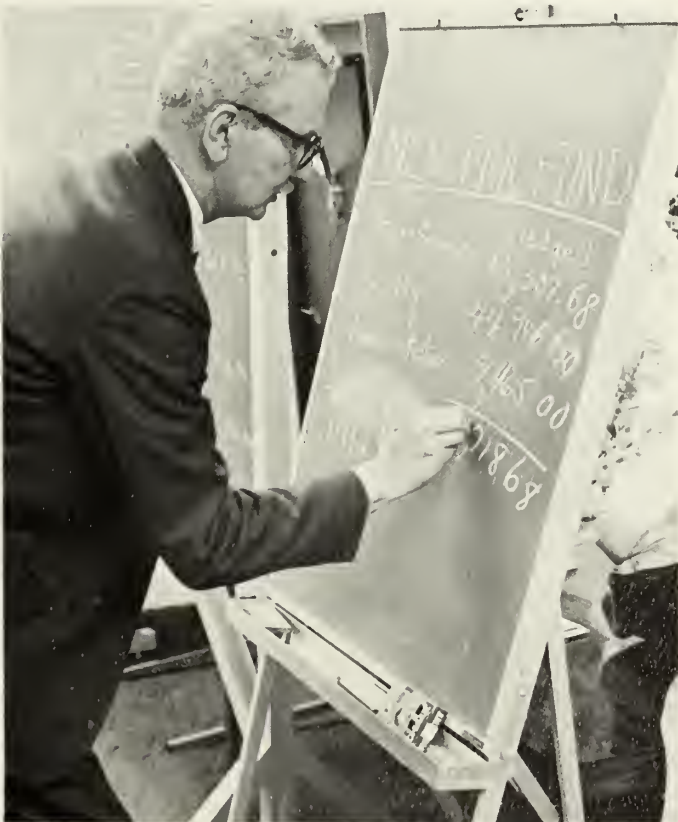

Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity was the first Greek group to pledge to the stadium fund—a sum of $3,000.

The new stadium, as it will look, if enough funds are raised.

Bob Taylor (below) of the fund raising company works the tote board and the sign (right) indicates the success by the campus family.

Memphis "Soul" Hits Campus

The Memphis Sound Revue, featuring the Bar Kays and the Soul Children, attracted 5,000 fans for the third SGA-sponsored concert.

Al Green and Rufus Thomas were scheduled to appear but got snowed in up in Pennsylvania. Green had just had a hit single, "Let's Stay Together," and Thomas has started several dance crazes during his career.

The two all-black bands took up the slack, and played for about three hours.

The seven-member Bar Kays "did their thing" when they played "Shaft" and "Son of Shaft."

Soul sounds filled the air and the fans loved it.

The costumes were varied and unique.

The lead vocalist for "The Soul Children" cuts loose.

Many students became "Soul Children" fans right away.

Record Number Graduates

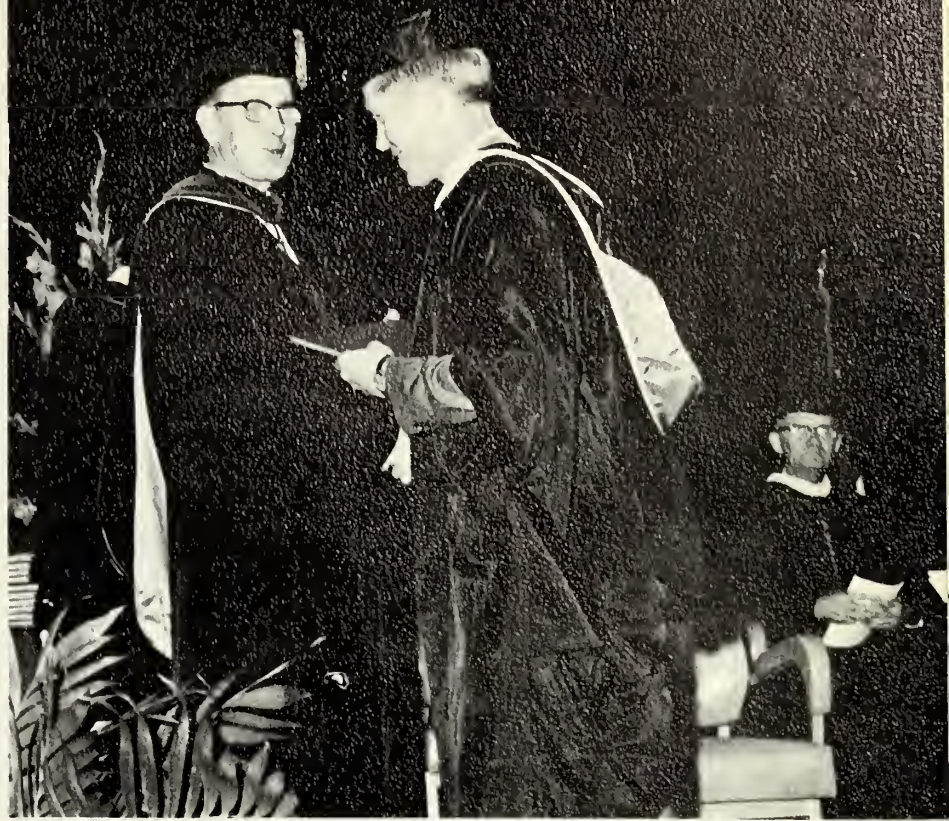

A sigh of relief accompanies each diploma.

These students all found that registration was not half as big a hassle as commencement is.

Speakers, speakers, and more speakers.

"Gee, Dr. Reng, is this all I get for four years of toil?"

College of Liberal Arts

Dr. O. Phillip James
Dean of the College

The College of Liberal Arts is designed to give students an exploring nature — an urge to grope for answers regardless of the difficulty involved. Realizing that all questions do not have just one answer, the college instills in the student a need to go beyond the literal answer to ask the “why” of questions that have evaded men for centuries.

Division of Military Science

Col. Jack F. Riggins
Prof. of Military Science

The Division of Military Science instituted a voluntary ROTC program this year for the first time. With that change came varied opinions concerning the structure of the existing program. Even so, basic operations remained intact. Still included in the world of ROTC are drills, weapons cleaning and demerits and the more glamorous Princess Platoon and military ball. The division also gained two lady cadets.

"AGGIE" FOOTBALL SEASON VERY SUCCESSFUL

RED AND BLACKS HAVE WON THREE AND LOST ONE.

Football is having a fine run of popularity at Aggie this year. This condition is accounted for by several reasons. An increase of interest both in town and among the students shows that this most popular of all college sports is exercising its wholesome influence on the entire community. Aggie is fortunate in having secured as Athletic Director a player of remarkable ability in his college days and a man who is able to get the best a candidate for football has in him to the surface.

Most people will agree that one bad thing resulted from the new voluntary ROTC program — the Princess Platoon was reduced in size from 24 to 13 young ladies.

The Princesses serve as honorary ROTC officers, march in the Christmas Parade, and are hostesses for the Division of Military Science social functions. They even attend weekly drills along with the male cadets.

Princesses are elected by the advanced corps.

Publications

1971-Herald's Fiftieth Year

An informed student body can partly be attributed to ASU's printed media, The Herald, which serves as an educational laboratory in the various fields of journalism.

Through the 1971-72 publication year The Herald achieved several distinctions. Celebrating its 50th year of publication The Herald obtained a first class rating from the Associated Collegiate Press. Three marks of distinction were received for the fall Herald which was the highest rating the A-State publication has ever received.

Arrow Turns Creative

Instead of being only a literary publication, this year the Arrow has become a creative magazine, including many types of works. The layout includes short stories, poems, a play, some engravings, a music composition and some photographs. This year's Arrow, written by students, allows them many more ways to express themselves.

Indian Staff Experiences A Year Of Changes

This year's Indian staff was unfortunately made up of a small band of full-time students, who discovered that a yearbook is also a full-time job. The conflicting schedules and shortage of time produced a few staff casualties, and even more cases of switching positions and assignments. Wednesday night meetings went unattended and semester long assignments seemed to surprise everyone as the ever-changing deadlines drew near. Somehow, in spite of classes, papers, jobs and meetings, the staff managed to meet all the deadlines and produced the 1971-72 Indian.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Founded at Columbia University in 1897, Alpha Omicron Pi has grown to widespread national status. ASU's chapter, Sigma Omicron, received its charter in 1949.

The AOPi Songfest, sponsored annually by Sigma Omicron, is a philanthropic project and the proceeds go to the National Arthritis Foundation. Alpha Omicron Pi also takes part in a variety of other charitable ventures. Aside from charities, the local chapter is concerned about the welfare and well-being of its own members and has a special scholarship fund designed to enable any sister to cope with financial barriers for a college education.

The officers for the year are Cindy Truxton, president; Tricia Tull, vice president; Debbie Galloway, recording secretary; Marlene Gamec, corresponding secretary; Marian Miller, treasurer.

KAPPA DELTA

Since Kappa Delta was formed in 1897 at Longwood College, the sorority has grown to well over 100 chapters throughout the country.

The local ASU chapter has also grown and matured since its beginnings here in March, 1968. This year's projects included a Christmas party for a Jonesboro needy family, a strong intramural program and several drop-ins.

KD's took top honors in this year's PiKA Little Olympics and AGD Talent Show. They also took second place in the sorority division Homecoming display competition. KD initiated 11 new members on Jan. 23, and welcomed five new pledges in the spring.

Officers were Mary Jo Hudgins, president; Kathy Smith, vice president; Fran Brown, secretary; Judith Edwards, treasurer; Jane Louks, asst. treasurer; Regina Files, editor; and Sheiron Ramsey, membership chairman.

One hundred and nineteen years after Phi Mu's founding at Wesleyan College in Macon, Ga., Phi Mu has grown by leaps and bounds. Phi Mu is the second oldest social organization in the nation. In a national ranking with other NPC groups in the U. S., Phi Mu has moved up into the top 10 rank.

Epsilon Delta was installed at ASU in 1951. Since its installation, Phi Mu has sponsored many national and local philanthropic projects. Each year the group sponsors the Phi Mu Playhouse, proceeds from which go to the S. S. Hope, a hospital ship that travels over the world to give medical aid to underdeveloped nations. Also, Phi Mu raises funds annually that go to St. Jude's Hospital in Memphis, Tenn. Other philanthropic projects include a health mobile, International Fellowships, Phi Mu Foundation and volunteer work on the local level.

Officers for 1972 were Candy Volk, president; Brenda Singley, vice-president; Polly Bailey, corresponding secretary; Kathleen Werner, recording secretary; Beverly Barnes, treasurer; Gloria Brown, pledge trainer; Jeanette Fawcett, membership; Debbie Taylor, Panhellenic delegate.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Zeta Tau Alpha was founded at Longwood College in 1868. The ASU chapter, Zeta Omicron, was granted its charter in May, 1968, one hundred years later.

The Zetas are ever active in campus and charitable activities. They work with the National Association for Retarded Children and other such service organizations. Every year they also help entertain the children at the Jonesboro Christmas Parade by donning masks and costumes of famous comic and fairytale characters.

Zeta Tau Alpha Foundation helps make loans and scholarships available to the ASU sisters. There are similar Zeta financial aids available on the national level.

Sig Ep, Chi O Take '500' Races

This nice informal picture depicts what the entire "Little 500" is all about — WINNING! Sigma Phi Epsilon and Chi Omega took the racing honors. Alpha Omicron Pi's semblance of a fire truck took first in the best looking pushcart competition.

The 13th annual Lambda Chi Alpha "Little 500" honors went to Sigma Phi Epsilon, in the fraternity push cart competition, and Chi Omega, in the sorority tricycle and push cart races. Alpha Omicron Pi sorority won the decoration competition. In festivities at the Sunday event, Pat Bilinsky was crowned queen of the races. Other royalty were Nicki St. Clair, Diane Hopwood, Nancy Jo Ricki, Beverly Taylor, Jeana Horner, Ruth Scott, Sharon Armour, Karen McCann, Cydney Elslander, Linda Molock, Jeanette Fawcett, Micki Sidebottom, Sharon Collatt and Patsy Manning. A good time was had by all.

Pat Bilinsky manages a hearty smile as she is crowned queen of the 1971 Lambda Chi "Little 500."

This Chi O might have enjoyed the Little Olympics more if the eggs has been owl eggs instead of from chickens. But who gives a hoot, anyway?

Dirty KD's Win!

Coke drinkings, egg throwings, sack races . . . and about three feet of mud. That's what makes a PiKA "Little Olympics." That's also what makes all the sorority girls so tired, sore and dirty once each fall. The KD's oozed into first place this year, before they oozed back to their rooms and out of their mucky clothes. For their troubles they received a trophy and a cash donation to their favorite charity. The other girls received the best mud bath they would get during the entire year. But a good time was had by all.

Hogs aren't the only people who wallow in the mud in Arkansas. These ASU students are apparently enjoying the good dirty fun afforded by the PiKA mudpit.

'Odd Couple' Takes First Place

Greeks gave birth to the drama. And each year their ASU counterparts seem to try to rectify the mistake during the Phi Mu Playhouse. With proceeds going to the S.S. Hope, various Greek organizations group together to try their hands in Thespian endeavors. This year Sig Ep, Chi O and AGR joined forces to win the competition with their presentation of "The Odd Couple." The Alpha Gams, AOPi's and Lambda Chi's presented "The Sound of Music;" Zeta's, Tekes and ATO's, "Summer Tree;" KD's, PiKA's and KA's, "Plaza Suite." Terry Goodman was named best actor and Rheta Cotton won the best actress title. A good time was had by all.

Huddling in fright, Alpha Omicron Pi and Alpha Gamma Delta members of the cast of "The Sound of Music" crowd in close to Debbie Sanders, the governess. The AOPi's and AGD's teamed up with the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity in the production.

Tekes Get Nailed; Fingerbowl To KA

The terrifying Teke offensive failed to outscore the members of Kappa Alpha fraternity in the 23rd annual Tau Kappa Epsilon "Fingerbowl," losing to the KA's 31-20. Nevertheless the crowd eagerly awaited the exciting ending of the contest. In fact, they eagerly awaited the beginning of the contest also, while the Tekes spent 20 minutes searching for "flags" for the flag-tag game. Somebody had forgotten them! During the wait, however, Teke "cheerleaders" entertained the audience. Brenda Singley reigned as queen of the game. Her maids were Karen Eldridge, Thea Black, Barbara Massey, Judy Johnson, Cathy Jones, Pat Brown and Karen Johnston. The 25 cent admission fee was donated to charity. A good time was had by all.

A Teke back heads for open territory in the annual Teke Fingerbowl. But alas, the ill-fated hosts were doomed to a 31-20 loss to the KA's.

What does a Kappa Delta version of a Tau Kappa Epsilon clock say? Teke-tock, Teke-tock! What else could it?

Lambda Chi director Tommy Runnels accepts his fraternity's award from AOPi Libby Watson. Danna Green, Alpha Gam director, is presented the sorority division "Songfest" trophy by Susan Doty.

AOPi Songfest

The vocal ensembles of Lambda Chi Alpha and Alpha Gamma Delta won "thumbs up" from the judges at the Alpha Omicron Pi "Songfest." The two trophy-winning groups were a part of 10 ASU fraternities and sororities that took part in the annual fund-raising event for the National Arthritis Foundation.

The LXA singers, under the direction of Tommy Runnels of Eudora, presented their rendition of "Scarborough Fair."

"God Made Our Hands" was the number selected by the Alpha Gams, under the direction of Danna Green of Doniphan, Mo.

The various groups competed in either small or large ensemble divisions, and trophies were presented to only the top fraternity and top sorority entrants.

AGD Talent Show

Debbie Steele, Kappa Delta, presents her version of "Can You Imagine."

A Kappa Delta member, Debbie Steele of West Memphis, won the top honors in the annual Alpha Gamma Delta Talent Show. Miss Steele did vocal and guitar arrangements of "Can You Imagine" and "And There You Are."

Proceeds from the yearly event, which draws talented entrants from many campus organizations, go to Cleft Palate Research.

Demetrys Johnson of Helena, the Arkansas Hall entrant, won second place with a vocal selection. Third place honors were awarded to the Phi Mu Alpha String Quartet which did a jug-band presentation of "Cripple Creek."

Bathed in the warm glow of a subdued spotlight, Arkansas Hall's Demetrys Johnson belts out "Natural Women."

Greeks do more than have drunks and grab every available body during rush.

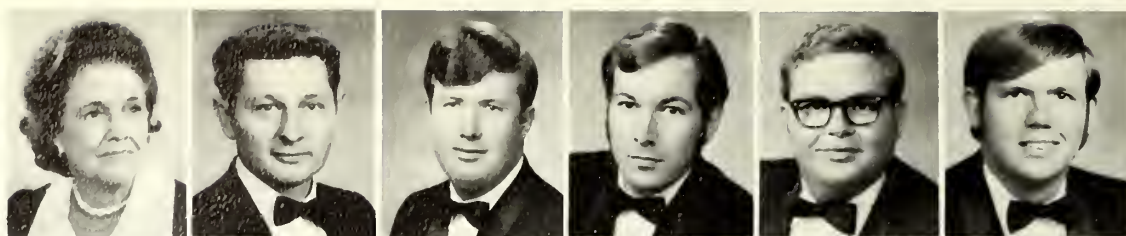

Public service and charity projects . . . promotion of school pride and public spirit . . . love and attention to neglected children . . . contributions to the concept of the complete university . . . the raising of a little hell on weekends, in hopes of killing the commuter atmosphere . . . the sharing of the idea of brotherhood and sisterhood among at least a portion of the college population.

Greek activities are definitely varied, from wild parties, to spring formals, to charity drives on street corners.

SHARON ARMOUR
Sweetheart

Alpha Gamma Rho is both a professional and social fraternity. It is similar in organization to other social fraternities except that its members are selected from among those undergraduate men pursuing majors in agriculture or related occupations.

Alpha Gamma Rho was founded in the fall of 1904 at Ohio State University. It is the newest fraternity at ASU, having been granted its colony status in the spring of 1970. In the fall of 1971 the first fraternity house was opened at Arkansas State by the brothers of Ag Rho.

Outside the fraternity, AGR's are active in the SGA and other campus organization including one member who serves as Chief Big Track.

This year's officers were: Walker Dunn, noble ruler; Danny Billings, vice noble ruler; Bob Shafer, recording secretary; Carl Robinson, corresponding secretary; Charles Horton, treasurer; Steve Toney, historian and reporter; Thomas Hayes, pledge trainer; Berry Walls, house manager.

KAPPA ALPHA

This year has been one of the most rewarding years for the Kappa Alpha Order. Starting it was our taking and accepting a large group of fine young gentlemen into our fraternity and making them one of the finest pledge classes we've ever had.

By hard work and strong brotherhood Kappa Alpha was able to take the number one trophy for best homecoming display in the mechanical division. Then by extensive teamwork KA took another victory in winning over the TKE's in their own TKE Fingerbowl.

We hope to continue with the fine success we have had this year and make next year an even better one.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Lambda Chi Alpha, founded at Boston University in 1909, is the largest national fraternity on the ASU campus. The Iota Theta chapter received its charter in 1959.

Each year the brothers of LXA sponsor the Lambda Chi "Little 500" and a Christmas party for underprivileged children. They also sponsor a Founders' Day banquet and the Crescent Ball. An annual Mark Crow Scholarship is given to a deserving sophomore who has maintained a 3.5 grade point or better.

LXA brothers of ASU are active in SGA, ROTC, Indian staff, athletics, Who's Who, and the Marching Indian Band. Officers for the year were Chris Rolle, president; Danny Sample, vice president; Ronnie Jackson, treasurer; Kim Holley, secretary; Russ Goad, ritualist; Rich Deuser, pledge educator.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Pi Kappa Alpha was found in Memphis, Tenn., in 1868; Delta Theta chapter, here at ASU, was granted its charter in 1948.

Being one of the oldest campus social organizations, Delta Theta has long been, and still is, active in campus activities. A PiKA, Mike Worley, was this year's Student Government Association president. Pikes have also held positions on the school paper, IFC and in varsity athletics.

Each year the ASU chapter sponsors the "Little Olympics." They also throw a party at Christmas for area orphans and underprivileged children. An All-Greek basketball tournament, Dream Girl Formal and Founder's Day Banquet are other PiKA-sponsored events.

PiKA officers were: Wayne Deen, president; Larry Jennings, vice president; David Grandgeorge, treasurer; Gary McGahhey, secretary; and Kevin Rorick, rush chairman.

The spirit of competition is strong in the Sigma Phi Epsilon brotherhood. The Sig Eps are always strong contenders for the intramurals all-sports trophy.

The year was a year of change and self-analysis for the brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon at Arkansas State University. An associate member program was implemented in place of the usual pledgeship. In the spring, the members of Arkansas Gamma chapter held a retreat in order to sit back and discuss the problems and future of the changing fraternity system.

Sigma Phi Epsilon was founded in 1901 at Richmond College. Ever since that time, Sig Ep brothers have been striving to make SPE the best fraternity yet.

This year, Gamma chapter was highly active in all aspects of intramural competition and other Greek activities. They were a part of the top play cast in the Phi Mu Playhouse. The annual Christmas party for underprivileged children was also held again.

All in all, Sigma Phi Epsilon has been trying to find their place in the ever-changing fraternity system and make the word "Greek" a nice name again.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

For the third out of the past four years, Beta Psi chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon succeeded in winning the Intramural Sweepstakes Trophy. They did so by running their win string in volleyball to over 35 games, and by taking the basketball and football trophies.

Beta Psi also was named as a runner-up to the top Teke Chapter Award, which they won last year.

TKE also placed second in the Homecoming display competition, this also for the second consecutive year. Three Beta Psi fraters were named to the Who's Who.

Beta Psi also donated much time to its public service commitments, conducting its Public Service Weekend last spring, and annual Goodfellows Canned Food Drive at Christmas. They also led all fraternities in donating the most blood in the Red Cross' Spring Blood Drive.

Serving Beta Psi as officers for this year were: Mike Brown, president; Don Carson, vice president; Jim Kyle, secretary; Ron Caldwell, treasurer; Jim Paul Johnson, pledge trainer; Billy Don Tiner, chaplain; Bill Leiblong, historian; Wayne Buck, sergeant-at-arms.

Linksters Falter In SLC Meet

The Indian golf team hosted the Southland Conference golf championships, but the home course advantage still wasn't enough to pull the linksters to the top in the SLC standings.

Having made a weak showing all year with a 5-5 regular season record, the golfers had trouble putting it all together and were easily outshot by a defending champion Lamar Tech team with 1,182 strokes; Trinity at 1,191 strokes and the University of Texas-Arlington with a 1,201 total.

However, the Tribe bettered their finish in the SLC race over the previous season in which they made a cellar finish. They captured fourth place with 1,237 strokes leaving Abilene Christian nine strokes down at 1,246.

Despite an outstanding performance by Trinity's Dave Williams who turned in rounds of 74-74-70-71 to win Medalist in the meet, the favored Lamar Tech team was able to grab its ninth straight championship with little effort.

Netters Match Golf Finish

Despite having the best record in the history of the school, 13-6, the A-State tennis team succumbed to Trinity University in the SLC championships and allowed the Tigers to gain the title for the seventh time in eight years.

In the final standings, which includes tournament and round-robin points, the Tigers tallied 46 points with Lamar Tech, its closest competitor in the championships, way back with 21 points.

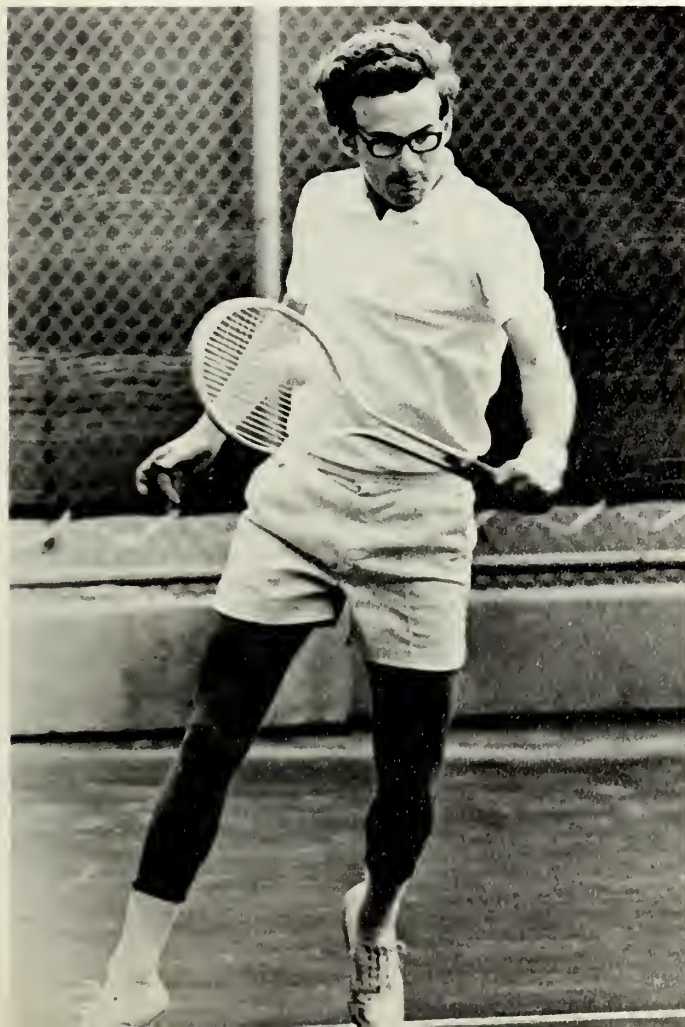

Abilene found third place only two points behind the Cardinals at 19, ASU was fourth with 10, and a somewhat hopeless UTA netter unit fell to the bottom of the standings with a cumulative three points.

The week before the SLC meet, the Indians met three conference foes and dropped all three contests.

At Lamar Tech, they went down 5-1 with Ken Mitchell taking the only win. Then Trinity, ranked No. 2 nationally at the time, shut them out 6-0; and attempting to salvage something out of the trip, the Indians made a better showing against Abilene.

Unfortunately, the Tribe still ended up on the short end as they only dealt the winning hand in two of the four matches.

Injuries Plague Track Team

From the start of indoor season, injuries took a toll on the Indian thinclads and hampered what appeared to be a prospectively great track season for the Tribe.

Veteran sprinter and world record holder in the 120-yard high hurdles, Thomas Hill, was the first loss to the team when he was knocked down going over a hurdle in Monroe, La. Hill suffered a knee injury that laid him out for the remainder of the season.

With the onset of outdoor season, a rash of pulled muscles sidelined several other sprinters and quartermilers and virtually ruined the Tribe's bid for the title in the SLC meet in Kays Stadium.

The Tribe finished third in the meet for the second year in a row with 50 points. A strong Lamar Tech team ended Abilene Christian's seven year domination of the track title in a 114-91 upset of the Wildcats. UTA was fourth with 21 points and Trinity, in a sorry showing, came up with only one point.

Tom Bingley (above) grimaces as he leans into the tape in an effort to beat out an Abilene Christian opponent.

Bob Gray (above) decides to cool his heels on one lap of the steeplechase competition. Willie Davidson and Lamar's Charles Blackburn battle to a deadlock in a crucial 880-yard run.

When bad luck comes, it hits in effective numbers and in long streaks for the Indians as the thinclads continued to find out.

Not only did injuries foul up the sprint teams but they also cut the season short for a couple of field event men.

Promising 16-foot vaulter, Barney Hess sat out the '71 term when a freak accident on the trampoline in the P.E. building placed his left leg in a cast for more than six weeks.

At the start of the season, Coach Thad Talley did have a high jumper, in fact he had two. One freshman prospect who received a knee injury in high school, had a choice of high jumping and possibly doing permanent damage to the knee or quitting track. The latter seemed like a better choice.

Then again, Hill was depended on to clear the bar with his tremendous leaping ability. So much for the high jump.

Sprinter-broad jumper David McGough managed to get caught in the pulled muscle epidemic and got to observe most of his junior season from the sideline.

The '71 team, basically a young, inexperienced club, was guided by junior veteran and workhorse Charles Love.

Things Could Have Been Better

Last spring, the Indian baseball unit played virtually the roughest schedule in its history and a composite 20-17 record shows it.

Going got rough against such foes as Notre Dame, Northwestern, Alabama, Ole Miss and the tremendous SLC teams, especially when the Indians began playing inconsistent ball.

The Tribe fielded basically a young club, including four freshman starters, in almost every contest. And in a conference such as the SLC, it's almost impossible to start young, inexperienced players and end up high in the rankings.

The Tribe did produce a 6-6 conference record after their bid for second place was shattered by a stiff University of Texas-Arlington team in a crucial three game series at the close of the season.

Entering the series after a 5-4 setback at the hands of Memphis State five days before, the Indians, with two wins over UTA, would have shared second place with Lamar University.

UTA carried the series through, basically due to the lack of depth in the Indian's pitching staff, and the Tribe dropped into third place for the season.

Big Red's hurlers, led by ace Charles Blackburn (8-3), compiled a 2.80 earned run average and the Indians tagged opponents for a .249 plate average.

Harriers Finish Third In SLC

What coach Thad Talley thought would be one of the most promising cross country seasons for the Tribe in years turned out to be quite the contrary.

The Tribe returned virtually the same Harrier squad with the exception of their No. 1 distance runner, Bob Gray, who finished out his eligibility the semester before.

And with the addition of Larry Lanier, a junior college transfer from Mocksville, N. C., and Ralph Cross, a freshman distance prodigy from Camden, the Indians were thought almost certain to sweep the conference meet.

However, Southwestern Louisiana, a newcomer to the Southland Conference, surprisingly walked away with the title over the highly touted Abilene Christian Wildcats who finished ahead of the third place Tribe unit.

It looked as though the rash of injuries had not left the Indians after the previous spring and they took a toll on the distance men.

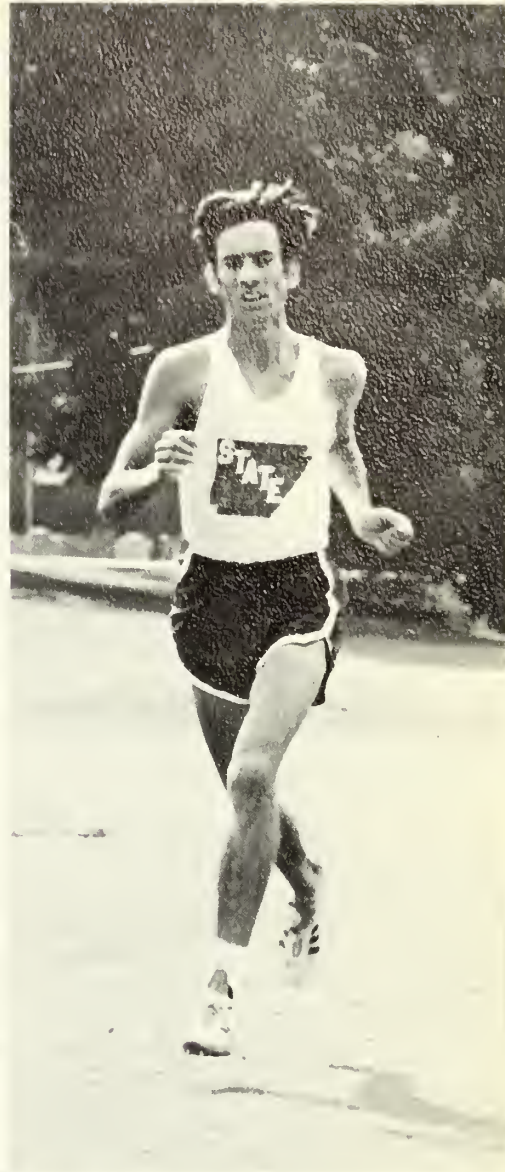

"We thought we would be stronger," recalled Talley. "But Lanier, who was our No. 1 runner at the time, got hurt along with a few others, and we just never could jell."

There was one bright spot in the disappointing season when the Indians won the Mississippi State Invitational. They lost four of four duel meets.

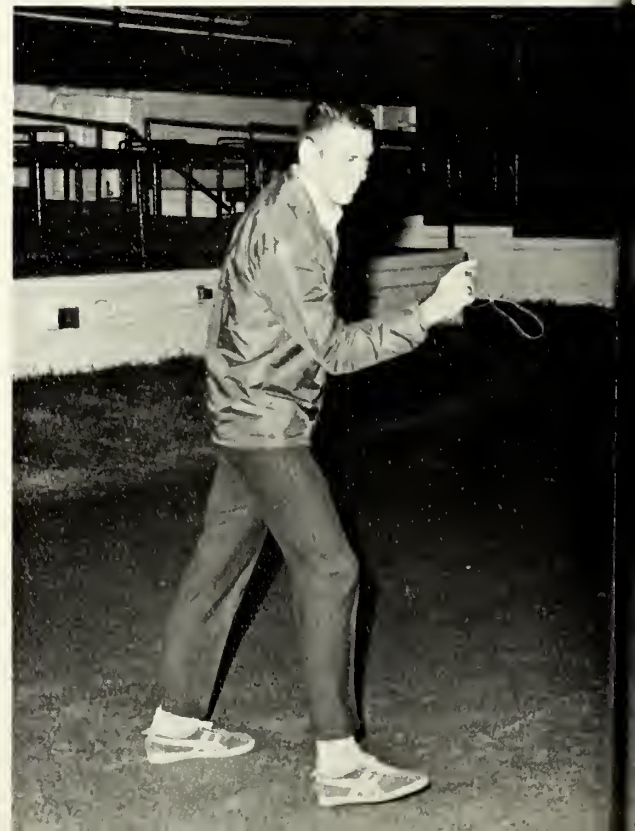

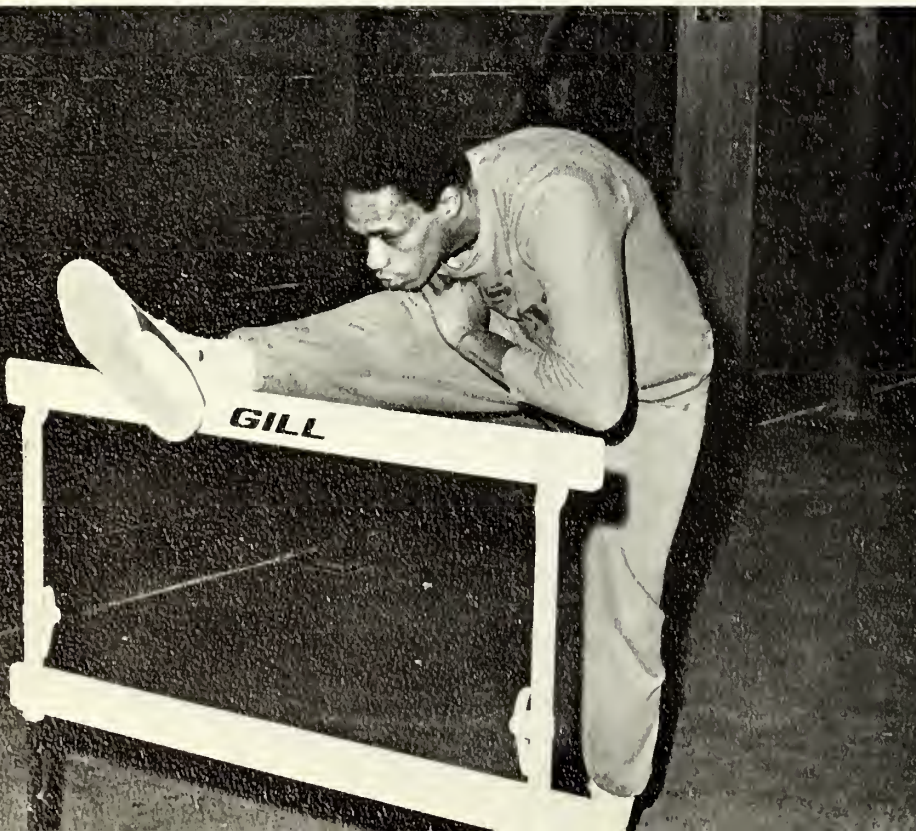

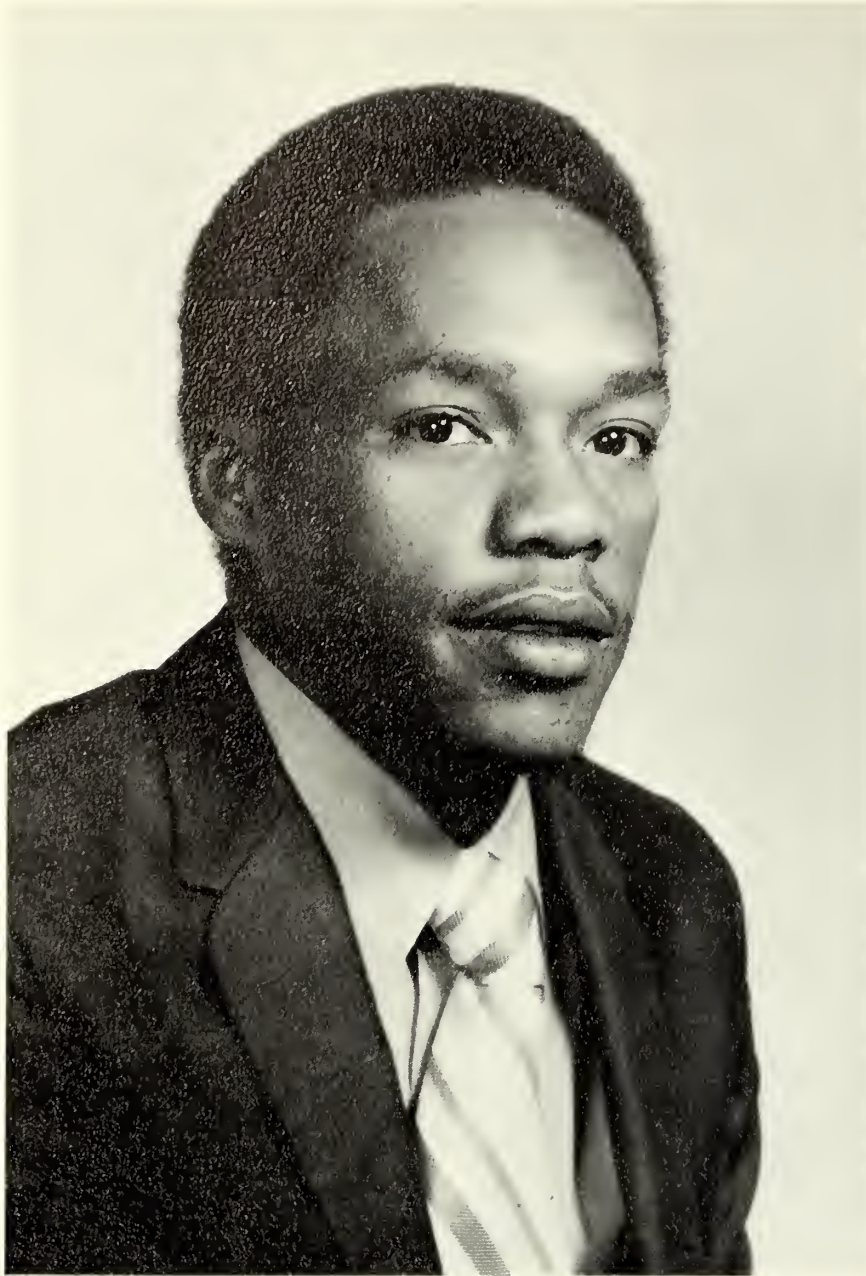

Fred Walpole and Dave Tackett (above right) start their long journey and Tackett (below) strides into the finish without his teammate. Jim Bailey (right) shows how a veteran takes the course with ease.

The Amazing Thomas Hill

For a guy who began his collegiate track career as a hurdler running a mere 15.6, and if lucky, a 15.5, Thomas Hill hasn't done badly for himself.

Through hard work, the leggy New Orleans native became one of only six men in the world to clock a 13.2 outdoors in the 120-yard high hurdles in the spring of 1970. And he had previously placed himself among the elite in the indoor 60-yard highs with a world record tying sprint of 6.9.

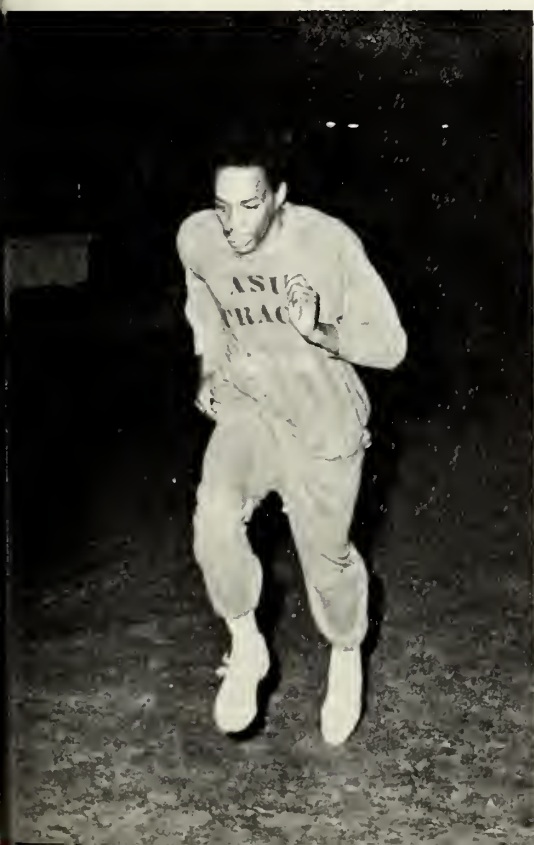

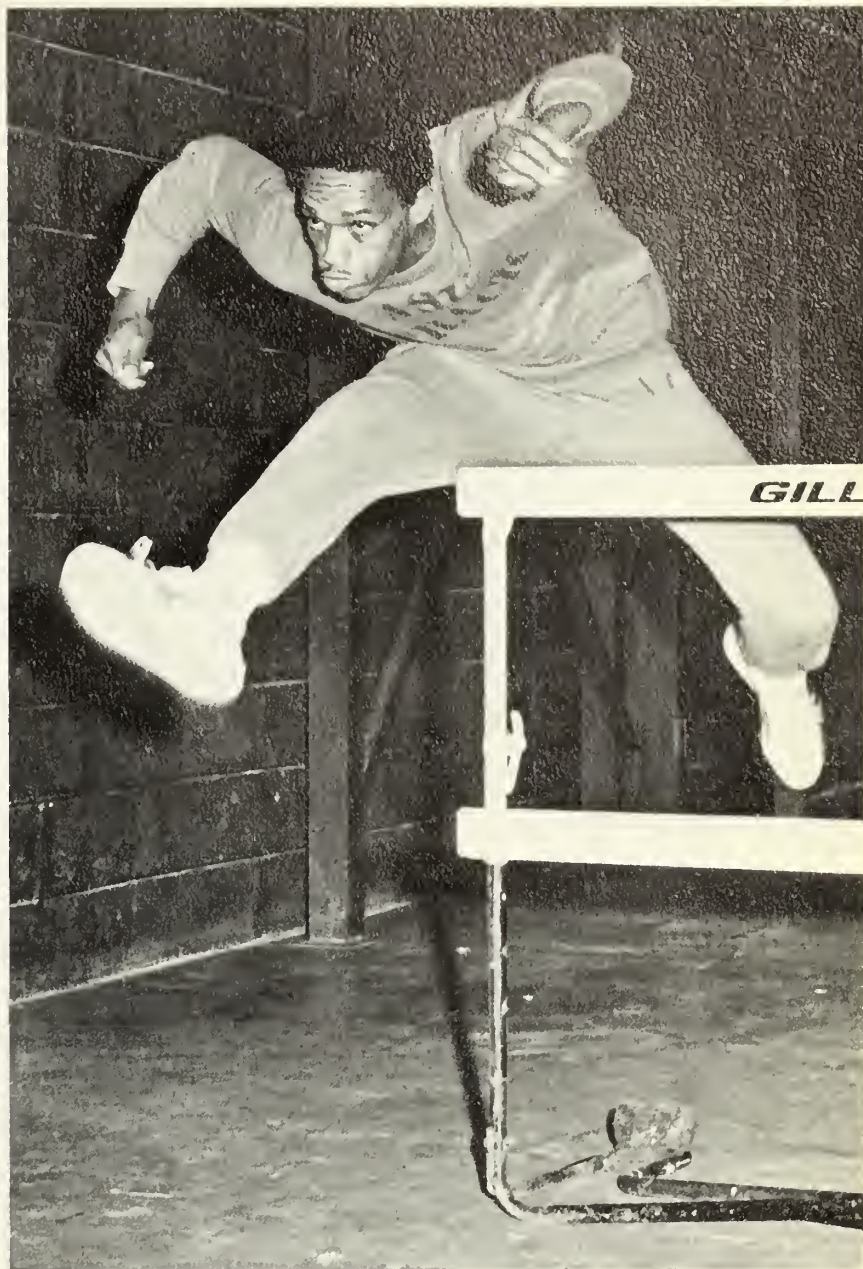

It seemed as though the talented hurdler would have his bright future cut short when he suffered a serious knee injury in a fall at the Northeast Louisiana Invitational meet in December of 1970. That tumble caused him to sit out for a year and allow the knee time to heal. He suffered plenty. But determination and a strenuous rehabilitation program put him back in the running.

In mid-February, the untiring senior had run more than four meets. And he was looking better every time. In fact, he again stepped up into the ranks with a time of 7.0 in the 60-yard highs and trounced the newest world champion, Rod Milburn convincingly in the Los Angeles Times Indoor Games.

Now all thoughts turn to the 1972 Summer Olympic games. And Hill wants a place in that select number. But his favorite uncle has other plans for the senior ROTC cadet who will receive his commission upon graduation.

But Uncle Sam too likes to get a little prestige in the sports ranks. And Tom's chances of becoming an Olympic hurdler are still good since he anticipates continuing his track career in the special services branch of the Army.

No one knows what the future has in store. But if his knee holds out, Thomas Hill has already decided his fate. A look at the Olympics this summer might reveal a familiar face.

F O O T B A L L

Indian workhorse, Calvin Harrell, is wrestled down by a Wheatshocker.

Off To A Good Start

Arkansas State's Indians began the 1971 season where they left off the year before. In the season opener the Tribe edged past Wichita State 16-14 but the win was a costly one — Bill Phillips, All-America guard the previous year, broke his ankle early in the first quarter. Phillips had been moved to linebacker between seasons and the injury came on Wichita's second possession.

The injury signaled things to come during the remainder of the season as injuries, big and small, plagued the Tribe during the course of the year.

The Indians also displayed a trait which became the usual rather than the unusual against the Shockers — mistakes and penalties. ASU was penalized 12 times for 123 yards and its first mistake set up a Wichita touchdown. A fourth down punt snap was bobbled and WSU scored four plays later taking a quick 7-0 lead.

Wichita used a stacked defense to stop Calvin Harrell's running and forced the Tribe to take to the air. James Hamilton hit Tommy Johnson early in the second period with a 64-yard bomb to knot the score 7-7. During the game, Hamilton hit on 15 of 28 passes for 207 yards.

Harrell carried 29 times for 156 yards and scored ASU's final touchdown, which added to Joe Duren's field goal in the first half, gave the Indians a 16-7 lead. Wichita came back with 3:25 left in the game to make the final score 16-14.

With the Wichita victory, the Tribe extended its winning streak to 20 games. Indian fans, however, had mixed emotions — a victory, but a broken ankle.

Tight end Steve Lockhart is racked up in mid-air by a Wichita linebacker after hauling in a James Hamilton pass.

James Hamilton (above) slips inside two Wichita defenders with a keeper on the option while Harrell (left) gets the score anyway he can — even sideways. Two Wheatshockers (below) close in on Dennis Meyer after he picks off a Wichita aerial.

Northeast—Another Victim

It was a battle of the Tribes when the Northeast Louisiana Indians invaded Kays Stadium, but not for long.

ASU's Big Red Machine wore down the NEL offense from the opening kickoff and handily commanded a 20-6 conquest of the Louisiana Redmen.

Jumping Johnny Carr captured the spotlight when he turned a sure play into a 52-yard touchdown scamper. James Hamilton put things further out of reach of the NEL unit when he punched one over from the one-yard-line with 13:04 remaining in the second quarter.

The gifted toe of freshman walk-on Joe Duren of Pine Bluff took up the slack and booted the Northeast team into a 20-0 deficit.

It appeared to be a long night for the NEL Indians who couldn't muster their first score until the fourth quarter with 10:52 remaining. To add insult to injury, the Indians pressured the Northeast team into a missed PAT attempt.

From there, a stingy ASU defense intimidated the Northeast team into almost complete chaos and rendered them offensively helpless for the remainder of the contest.

It took another Indian to do it, but Calvin Harrell (right) finds out what it's like to really be uprooted by just one man which sidelined him for almost a half. Coach Bill Davidson (below) confers with his offensive unit on the sidelines.

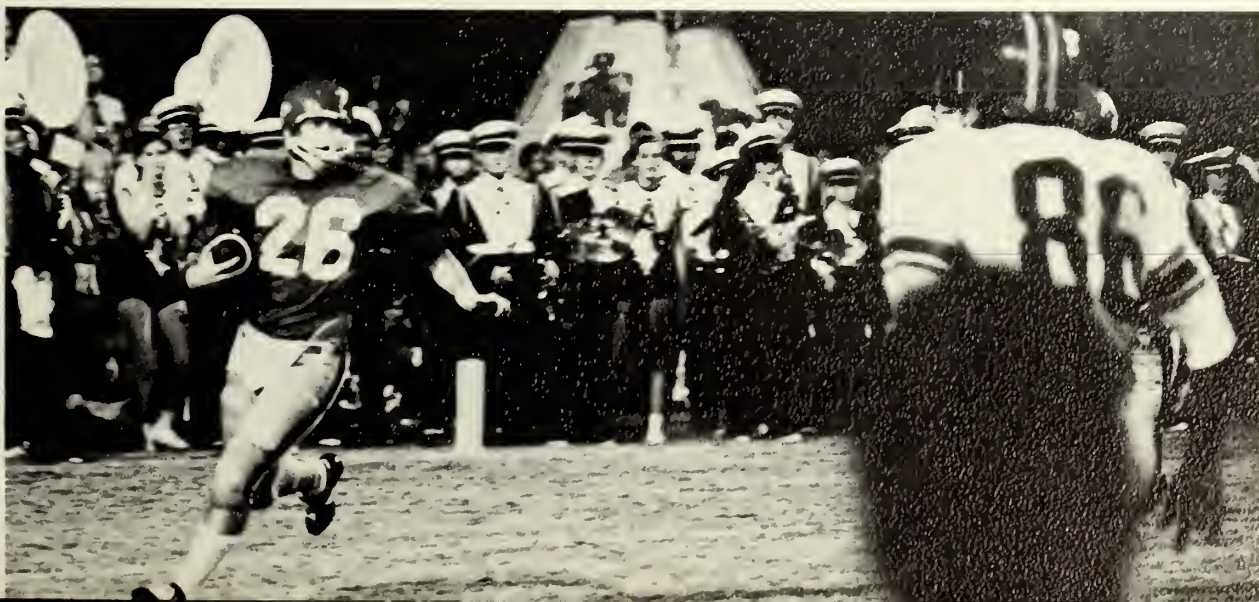

Sure-handed Johnny Carr of two seasons ago, found it hard to hang on to the ball this year.

A Dream Shattered

On a cold, windy night in Carbondale, Ill., a revengeful and unerring Southern Illinois University team ended the Tribe's 21-game win streak with a hard fought 21-14 victory over the Indians and terminated the Indian's domination over the AP and UPI college division polls.

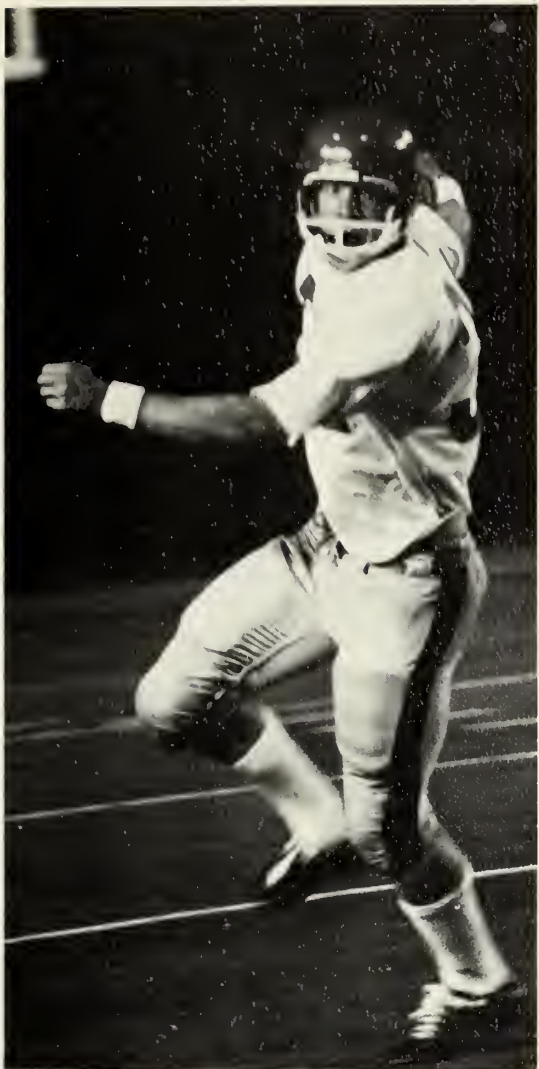

Eager to avenge an embarrassing 27-3 lashing handed them by the '70 Tribe enroute to a national championship, the Salukis went as far as to change around the personnel just to thwart the Indians' ground game and contain Harrell. It worked.

Almost single handedly, 6'7", 275-pound Lionel Antoine, the Salukis All-American tight end, switched to defense for the contest, stopped up the middle and contained Harrell to 68 yards rushing, one of few times he was held under 100 yards in 14 games.

The Salukis' powerful running backs bulled them to a 21-7 lead over the Indians in the second quarter. James Hamilton managed to find Steve Lockhart open in the end zone with 5:07 left in the game to pull the Tribe within seven, 21-14. But that was as close as the Indians were to get.

The Salukis wanted to prove that the Tribe could not whip them two years in a row. They did. Handily.

Dennis Meyer (left) closes in on a play and seems to be doing the Charleston — football style. A bevy of Indians (above) close in on a Saluki running back while another Saluki (below) finds it tough going against the Tribe through the middle.

The Heartbreaker Came In Ruston

All hopes of a Southland Conference Championship for the Tribe possibly hinged on a victory over the newcomers to the SLC, the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs.

Despite the loss to SIU, the Indians were fired up and ready to take the big one. But things began to look bleak early in the first quarter when Tech quarterback, Ken Lantrip, ripped the Indian secondary for two scores in a little over one minute.

But a proud Tribe was not to be outdone. With 2:14 left in the quarter Hamilton slipped off right tackle for a score. Johnny Carr then galloped around left end for paydirt with only nine seconds gone in the second quarter and the Tribe was on the move.

It's not over yet! Craig Johnson intercepts a Lantrip pass on the Tech 36 and returns it all the way to put the Tribe up 21-14. Duren got his turn to tack on two field goals and the Indians were on top for a while 27-21.

But Tech's scampering Roger McDaniel put the Bulldogs back in the game in the fourth quarter, 28-27, with 19:19 remaining. And that's the way it ended.

The Tribe relinquished the ball twice inside the five and gave up two scores, one time while crossing the goal line. Fumbilitis — a costly problem that the Tribe was to be plagued with throughout the season.

And as in the case of this game, it was a problem that was to let many scoring opportunities slip by the Indians and cost them precious points on the board and the victory.

Craig Johnson (above) closes in on a Tech receiver and then pursues Tech quarterback Ken Lantrip (below) as Lantrip breaks through the Indian front line on the option play. Johnson later intercepted a Lantrip pass and returned it 36 yards for a TD.

Third Straight In Little Rock

It would have been a good night to try and reproduce a scene of Noah and the Ark when the Tribe met Abilene Christian's Wildcats, but having now played three of their last four games in the rain or under threatening skies, the Indians weren't impressed by the steady downpour and routed ACC 35-9.

In fact, the Tribe smothered the Wildcats to the point that a dry field couldn't have helped the Cats' game.

Big Red undoubtedly produced their best offensive performance of the year as they rambled for 497 yards total offense. Despite the weather, 271 yards came in the air while the Tribe ground out the other 226 yards on the slippery astro-turf in War Memorial Stadium before an estimated crowd of 15,000 who braved the wet and cold.

It was the night of the long gainers for the Mean Machine beginning with a 70-yard bomb from Hamilton to Lockhart in the first quarter. Kearney Blalack, the speedy split end from Newport outshined Lockhart as he grabbed two long passes in the second quarter for 76 and 69 yards respectively and two scores.

With the Tribe out front 28-3, a faltering Abilene offense began to take form and move the ball 92 yards for the score, but a missed PAT didn't aid the Wildcats cause and left them 17 points down late in the last quarter.

An 87-yard TD interception run by Terry Whiting iced it for the Tribe with 3:52 on the clock.

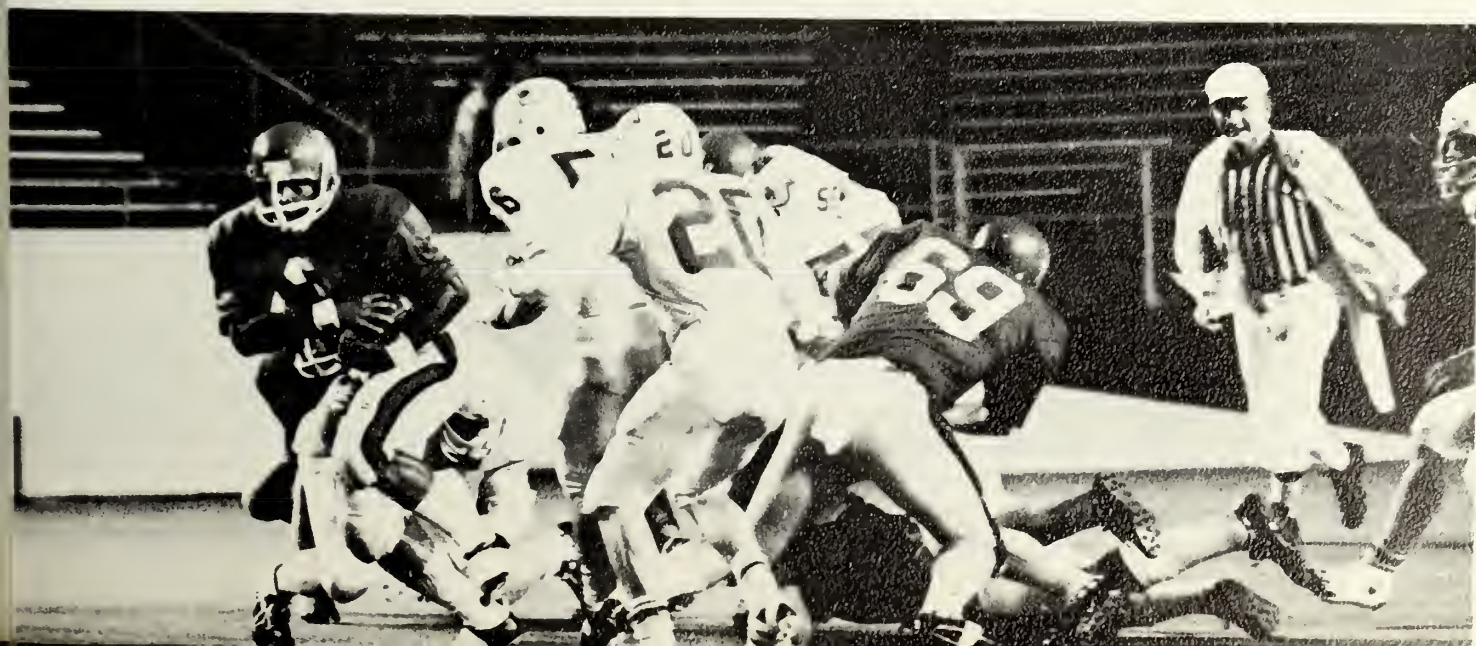

Steve Lockhart (above) finds it hard to hold onto the ball and swim at the same time and Calvin Harrell (below) gets a free ride from an Abilene Christian defender.

The Championship Slips Away

Ironical as it seems, it was actually the two new contenders in the SLC that unseated ASU in its bid for a second conference championship.

The Ragin' Cajuns of Southwest Louisiana came to Kays Stadium and engaged the Indians in a mudfest after a typical rain the day of the game.

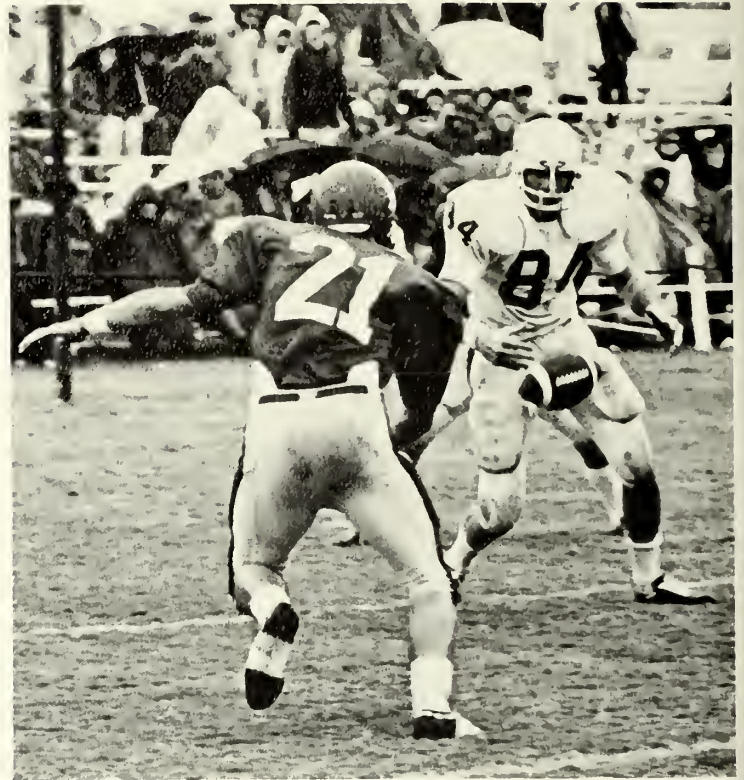

It was a matter of the Cajuns not giving up and the Tribe not giving in and the two battled to a 10-10 deadlock. For the Indians, it was a win or nothing. They ended up with the latter as far as the championship was concerned.

The Tribe's only TD came on a 52-yard bomb from Hamilton to Burks in the third quarter and a previous field goal by Duren put the Indians on top 10-7.

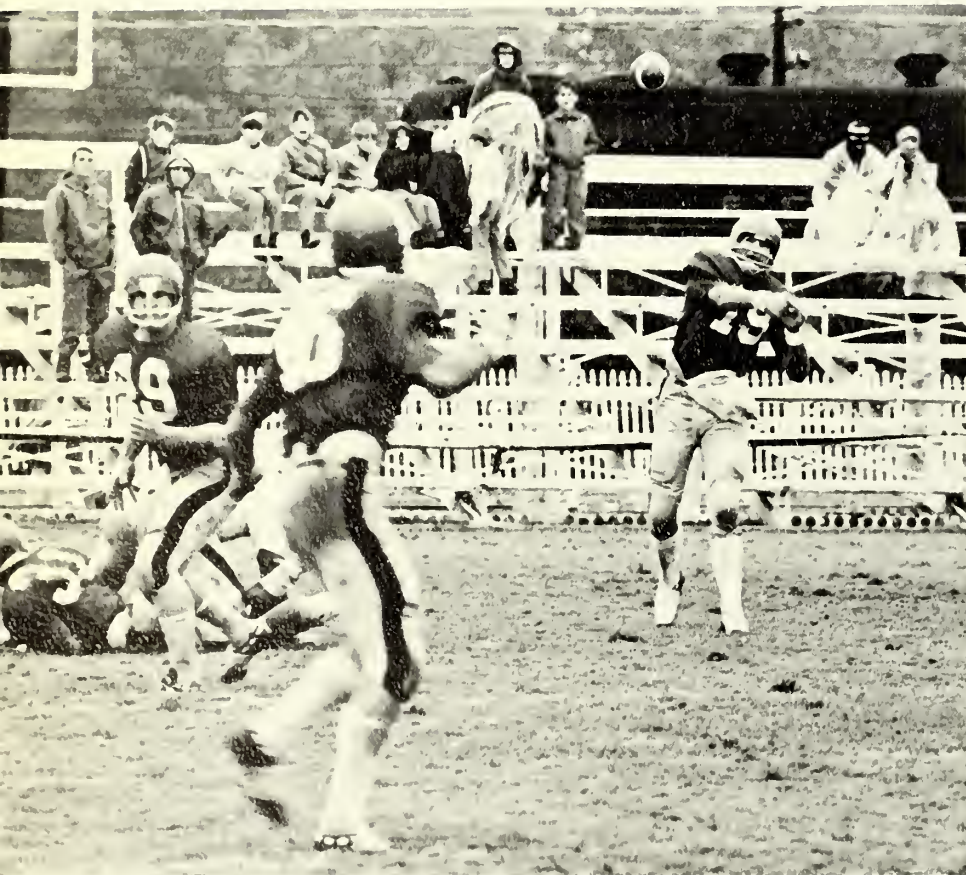

However, USL tied the score and virtually scored the winning touchdown at the final buzzer, which left the Tribe in a cold sweat.

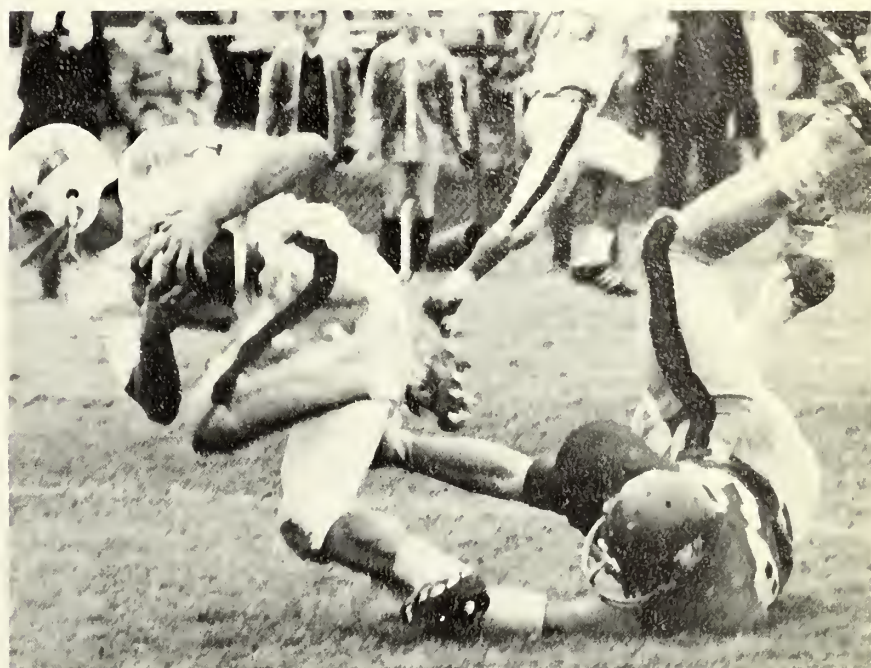

But off-setting penalties brought the play back to the one inch line and the Cajuns elected to try a field goal from an atrocious angle 17 feet out.

The attempt was no good and that was all of the game and the Indians championship hopes.

Craig Johnson (above) moved in on a Southwest Louisiana pass receiver. James Hamilton (lower left) rifles one to Tommy Johnson who is all alone in the flats. The Indians (below) turn the tables on a USL defender and in turn he gets a free ride on the shoulders of Wayne Dorton and Doug Lowery.

An Old Fashioned Homecoming

When 10,100 fans showed up for Homecoming festivities and the Indians' match with the University of Texas at Arlington, the Tribe turned crowd pleaser and looked like the Indian team of old in a 28-7 win over the Mavericks.

The Tribe started things off right on their first series of downs with second and 25, when Johnny Carr tossed the flea flicker pass to Blalack for the score.

The Indians were good for one score per quarter and Hamilton took the ball over from the one with 2:17 left to cap a 34-yard drive in 10 plays. In the third quarter, Harrell spearheaded a 58-yard drive and bulled over the right side of the line from 12 yards out and the score.

All the Mavericks could establish was a 36-yard pass play that resulted in the only score for UTA after being held scoreless for over 3 quarters. The UTA score came only after Harrell had found his way to the goal for the second time during the day earlier in the quarter.

The Indians began substituting freely and failed to score anymore in the game but the day turned out just like old times — with the Tribe winning big.

Harrell (above) goes over for the score with a little acrobatics — across the top with a half twist. A Maverick (lower left) runs into nothing but a wall of Indians and a spectator (below) shows how to enjoy all the comforts of your own back yard while watching the game on a warm day.

Loss Number Three

It was the same story with the Trinity Tigers when the Indians literally outplayed the Tigers but costly turnovers gave Trinity the game 28-11.

The Indians jumped out 3-0 in the first quarter by a Duren field goal but that soon gave way to a 52-yard pass play from Ken Curry to Bill Hodge.

The Tribe missed another chance to score when Chris Millwee recovered a Trinity fumble on the Trinity 32-yard line but Johnny Carr fumbled on the Trinity nine and the Tigers recovered.

Meanwhile, Trinity found paydirt two more times before Curry gave up an intentional safety to the Tribe in the third quarter.

The Indians didn't threaten again until late in the third quarter when they put together a 72-yard scoring drive and David Mitchell broke 11 yards over right tackle for the TD. The Tribe went for two on the PAT and Mitchell was stopped short.

The Tigers went 61 yards on seven plays for the final score with 2:41 remaining. Again the Indians fell prey to their own turnovers and a rash of incomplete passes which helped the Tigers put it away.

A host of Indians (above) bring down a Tiger over the middle and Hamilton (below) sprints out looking for a receiver.

James Hamilton (above left) spirals a pass to receiver while David Mitchell blocks. Jeff Sackett (above) strides down the sideline. David Mitchell (left) eludes a Tiger secondary man on his way to six points.

The End To A Long Season

The road had been tough and the Red Birds of Lamar University didn't make things any better when they concluded the Indians' season with a 14-7 shellacking of the Red Men.

A quick interception of a James Hamilton pass opened things up for the Cardinals at the Tribe 26-yard line and on second and six from the Indians 22, Lamar broke the big one for the score.

Big Red again gave up the interception setting up the Cardinals second touchdown. On second and eight from the ASU 14, Doug Matthews went for seven to the seven. From there a score by the Cardinals was almost unstoppable.

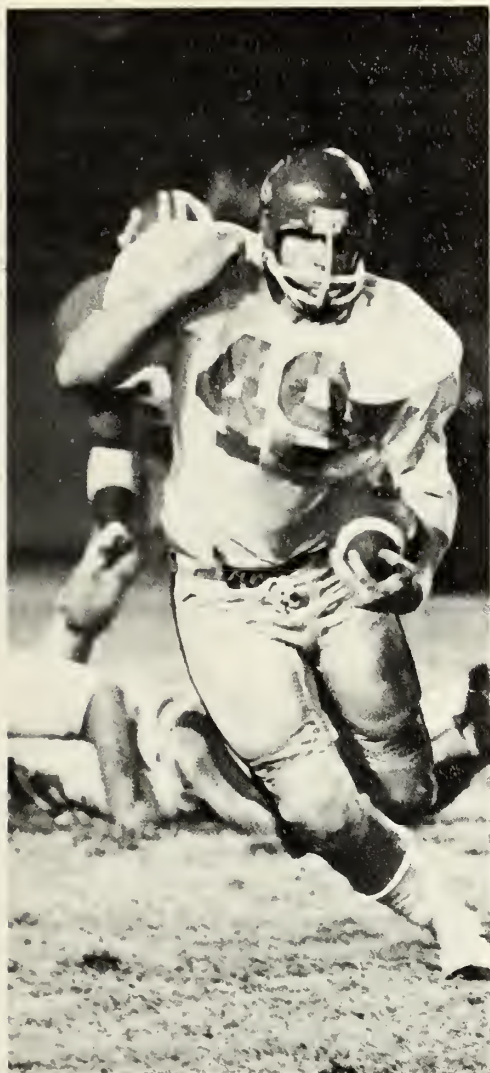

The Indians now guided by freshman field general, James Flynn, got on the scoreboard when Flynn hurled a strike to Tommy Johnson from his own 29-yard line.

The teams battled to a stalemate after that and that was the way it ended for the Tribe in the 1971 season.

A Cardinal (above) finds out that a cross body block is not always the best way to stop an Indian. Hamilton (lower left) hands off to Harrell through the middle. Linebacker Butch Murray (below) goes high attempting to block a punt.

Harrell (left) cuts to the outside after several Cardinals plug up the middle. Julius Hollimon (above) looks for running room as he returns a kickoff. Flynn (below) does a little high stepping after he decides that the best thing to do is get it himself.

THE TRIBE

4-4-1

It was quite a different story for the Indians in '71.

Unlike the unprecedented national college division championship team the year before, the Tribe now operated under a new coaching staff and fielded young and inexperienced players in a once unstoppable front line. The result—four wins against four losses and one tie.

Southern Illinois was the first team to upset the balance of the second good year in the making for the Indians when they belted them for more than 300 net yards and scored an impressive 21-14 victory. The defeat was the first for the Tribe in 22 games and ended a 16-game win streak.

But the worst was yet to come. After battling to a 10-10 deadlock with Southwestern Louisiana, which took the Tribe out of the running for the conference championship, the Indians dropped their last two conference games to Trinity and Lamar University. There would be no spoils for them this season.

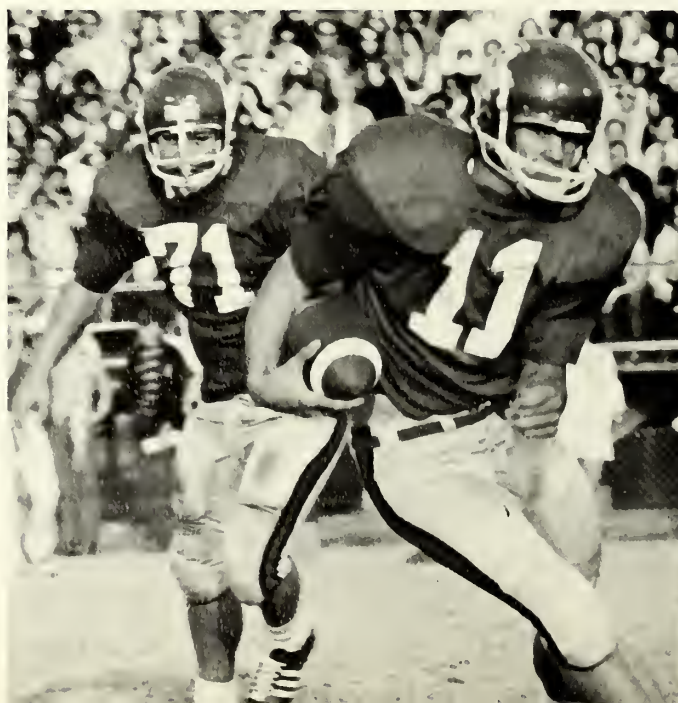

Despite the sub par finish, hard work paid off for 18 of the Tribe members. Three of coach Bill Dividson's Indians captured All-American honors. Wayne Dorton and Dennis Meyer were named first team All-Americans and Calvin Harrell was selected to the second team.

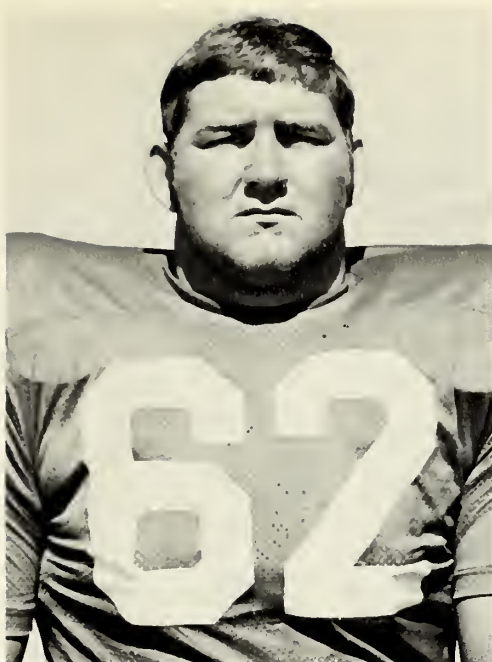

Meyer was picked as the SLC defensive player of the year for the second consecutive year while six of his teammates were first team all SLC selections.

Eleven others received second team and honorable mention ALL-SLC honors, and James Hamilton, Dorton and Harrell were selected to play in the North-South Shrine game in Florida.

It was not the best season for the Tribe, but who knows? Another champion may have been made.

INDIAN

BASKETBALL

The Start Of A Long Season

The Indians got an early taste of what was to be a bitter season when they succumbed in their first two home contests to Georgia Southern, 85-79, and Union University, 99-98.

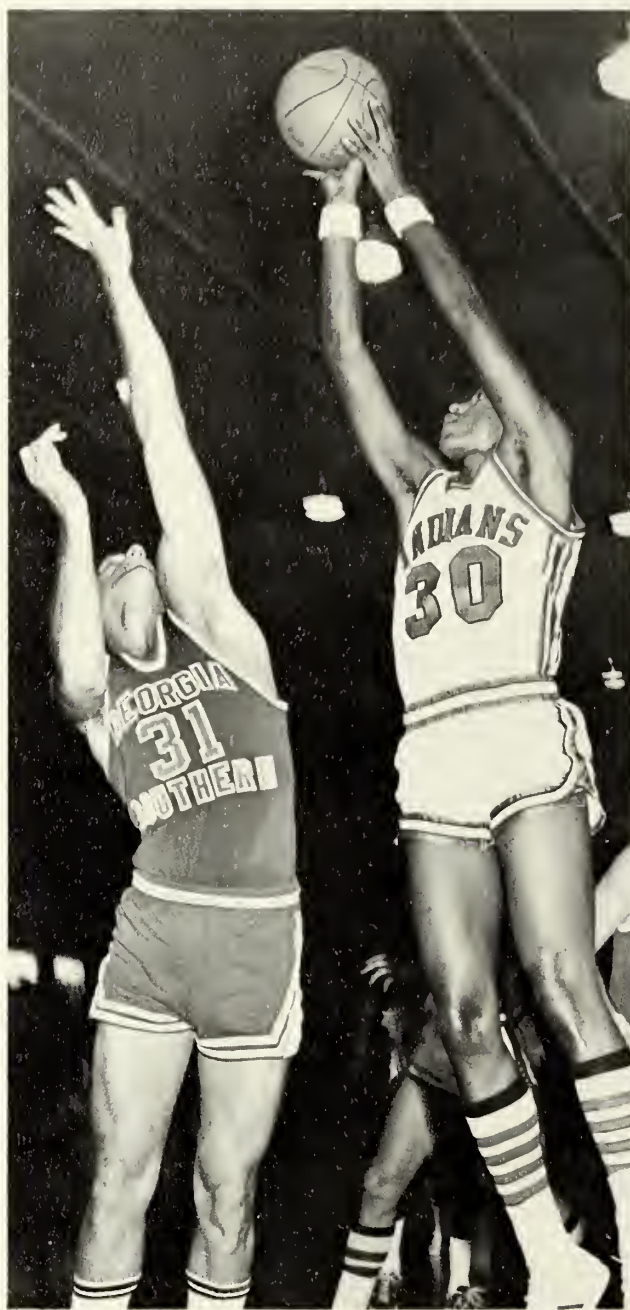

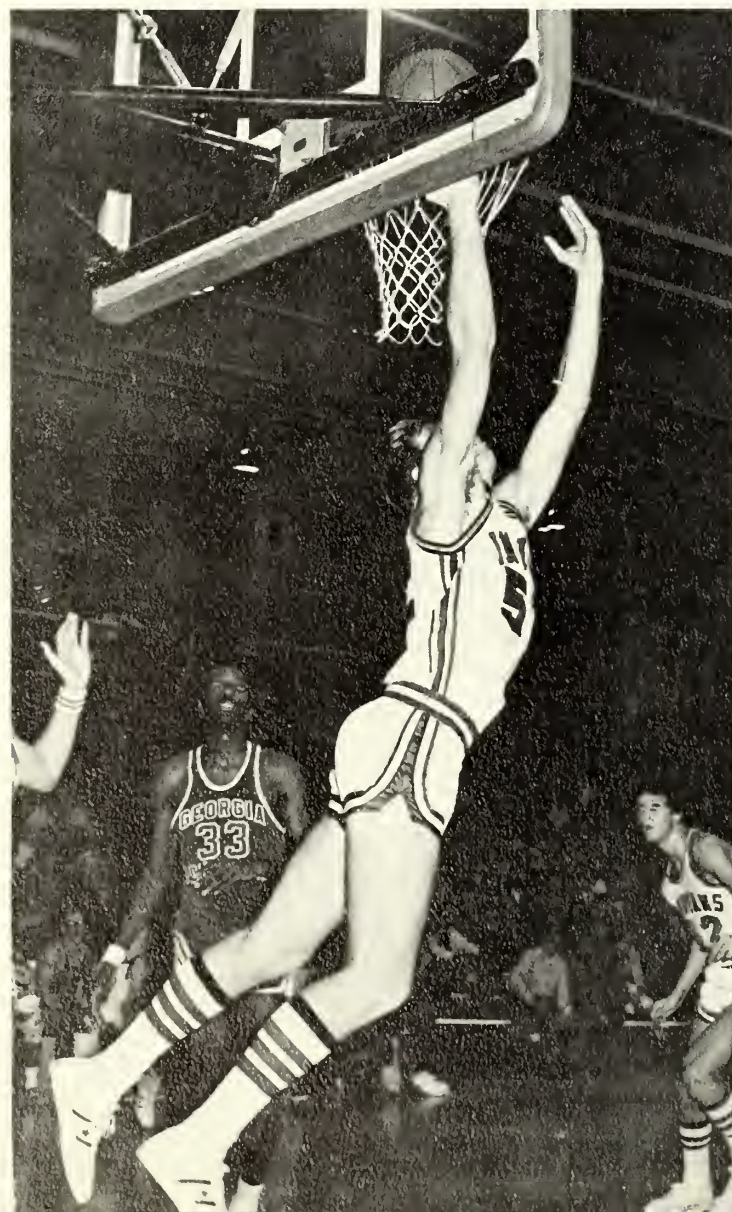

Despite Steve Brooks' 29-point performance, Georgia Southern managed to ease away from the Tribe with a last minute surge in the final half behind the shooting of 6-4 guard Richard Wallace.

Arkansas State put five men in double figures against Union, but a turnover with seven seconds remaining in the game and the Indians down by one, allowed Union to hold onto a squeaky victory.

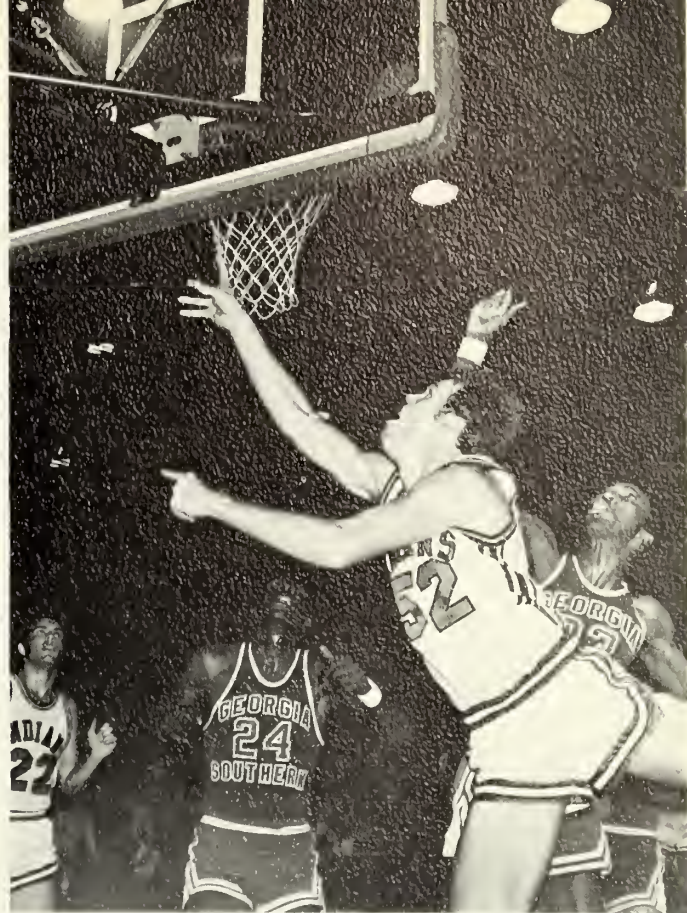

Turnovers were to plague the Tribe all season and the lack of pre-season scrimmages with outside teams accounted for much of the Indians inability to pull out the win early in the year.

Avenging the earlier losses, the Tribe got their first win of the season on the road against the smaller Centenary Gentlemen. Behind John Belcher's 26 points and 20 rebounds they easily handled the ball-control Gents 76-64.

In that outing, Steve Brooks and Tommy Smith were the only other Indians in double figures with 12 and 10 points respectively.

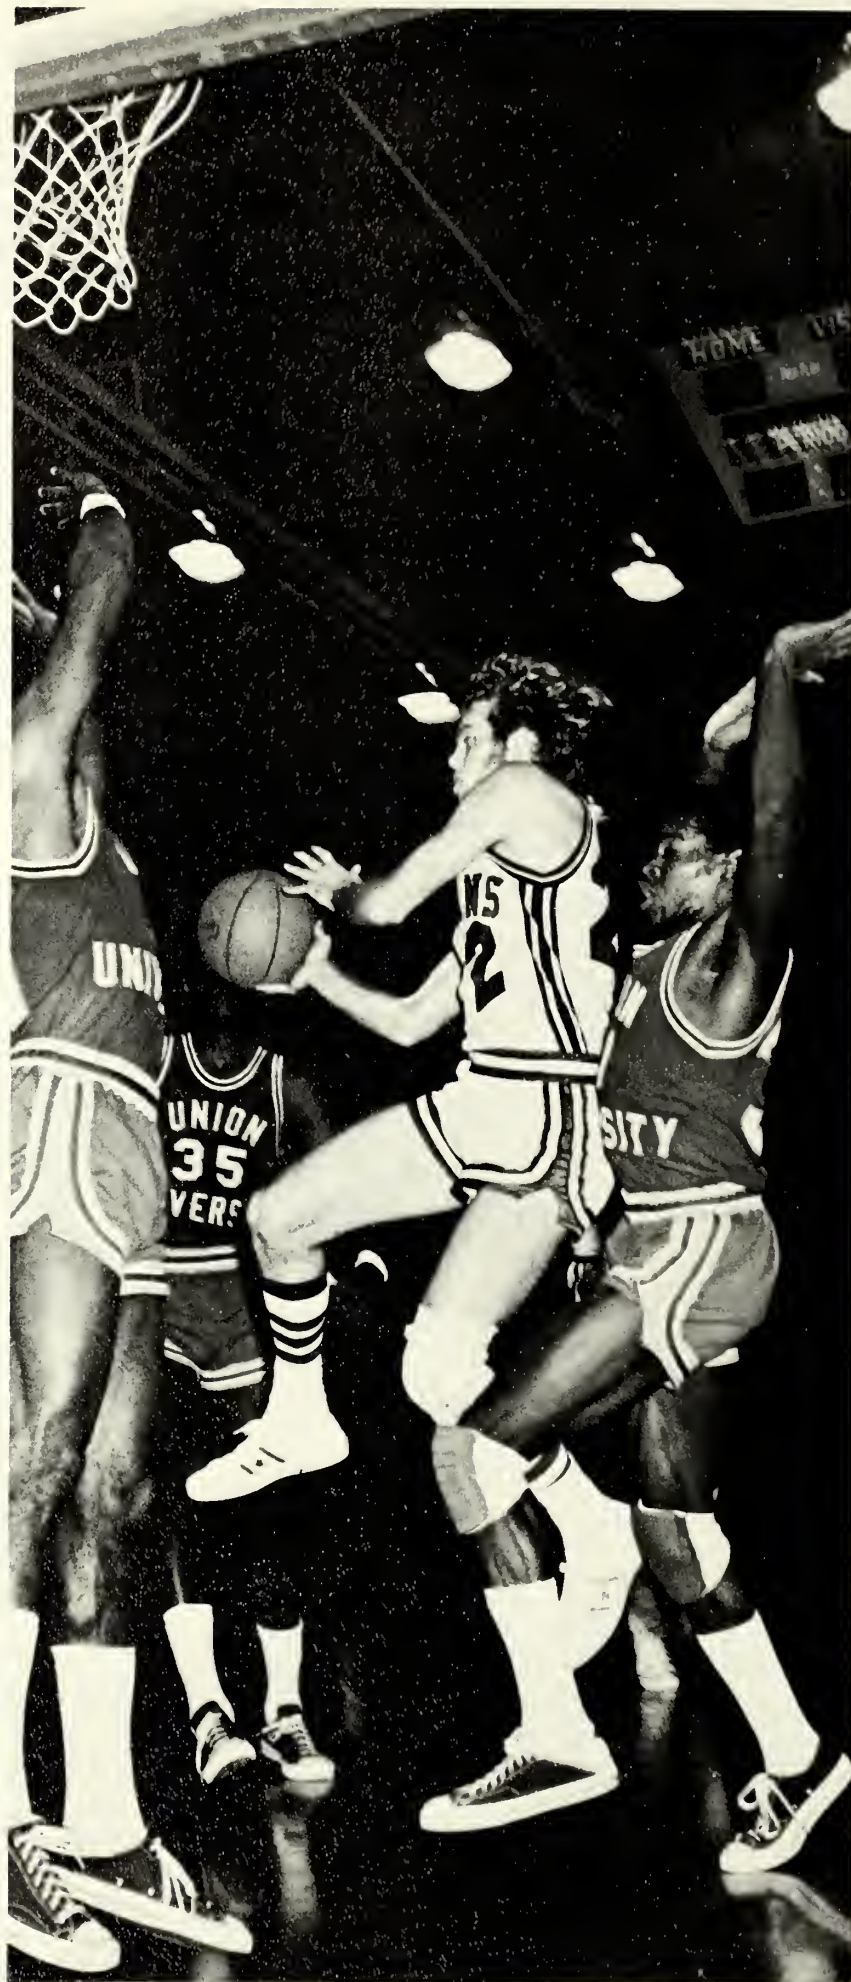

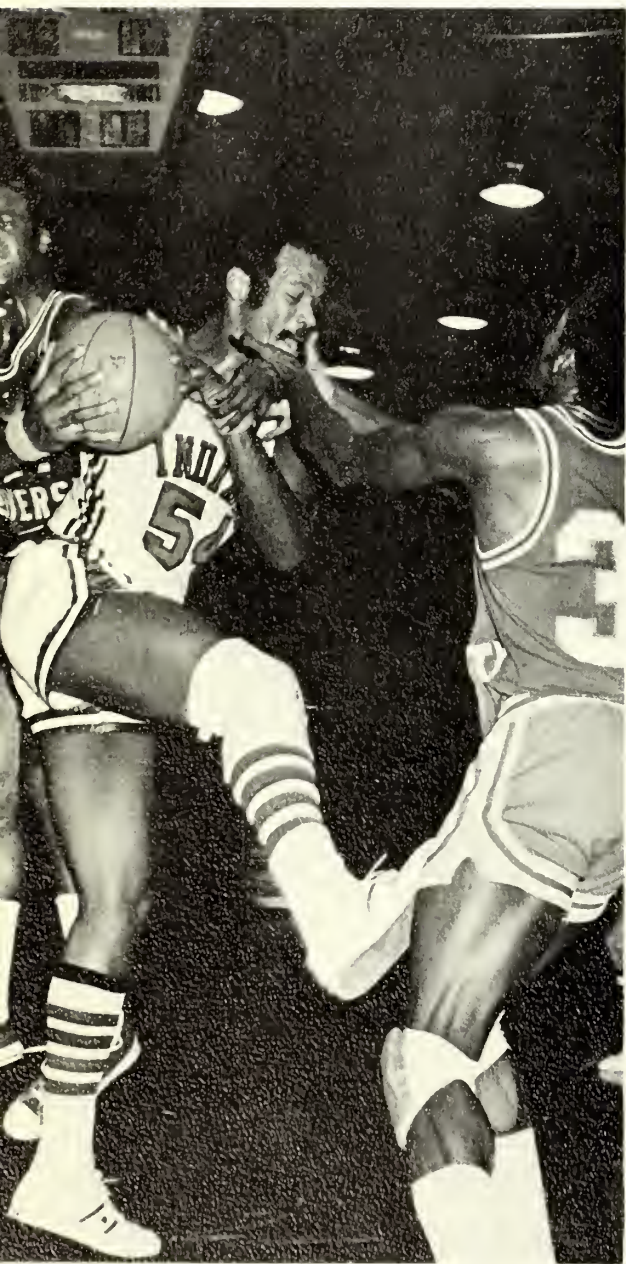

Schuler Rowland (above) goes high over a Georgia defender for a short jumper. Steve Brooks (left) finds the bucket from the back side while teammate Lonnie Webber and two Southern opponents look on.

Belcher (below) gets a quick facial from a Union player while grabbing a rebound. At the same time, he seems to be administering the same player a thigh massage. Danny Sullivan (right) looks for Belcher in heavy traffic under the bucket.

Belcher (above) practices his ballet on a rebound while Rowland offers a little support. Brooks stretches for a rebound (right) as Sullivan and Webber stand ready to lend a helping hand.

Calvin Breedlove (above) draws a crowd in the middle as Ronnie Rose stands back to offer any needed assistance. Webber (right) has his man beat for an uncontested hook shot and Rich Alexander, Sullivan and Brooks (below) close in on a Corpus Christi player with a half court press.

Schuler Rowland (above) is blocked along the baseline by a Corpus Christi defender while Alexander (below) is helped up by Webber after twisting an ankle.

The Indians made it three in a row when they whipped Midwestern University and the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga to win the Arkansas State Christmas Tourney.

Calvin Breedlove, the Tribe's sophomore shooting ace, only had 16 points in the 80-68 win over Midwestern, but he unleashed 30 in the 90-78 rout of Tennessee before a Yule season crowd of 2,500.

Breedlove and Brooks combined for 43 points in the Indians 88-76 shellacking of Oklahoma State for their third consecutive win. In that contest, all but one man on the Tribe team got on the books.

They gave up the next two road contests when, despite a 21-point halftime lead against Texas Tech, the Tribe couldn't hold on and relinquished the game 75-68. And Midwestern evened things out taking that game 73-72 behind the Indians uncanny knack for turnovers.

Returning to Indian Field House, Wichita became a big prey for the win hungry Tribe and closed a 26-point second half deficit to 10 before Big Red sealed that one 84-74. In that battle, Breedlove and Brooks combined forces for 47 of the Indians points.

Behind a strong Indian backboard game and good offensive control, the University of Corpus Christi couldn't quite match the Tribe's offensive play and went under to the Indians, 66-60.

Tribe Takes Five Of Seven

At Home—A Win, Otherwise . . .

Normally a hold-the-ball-and-play-defense type ball club, the Citadel Bulldogs caught the Indians with their warpaint off and rendered the Tribe helpless in a humiliating 86-48 romp over the Red Men.

It was one of those nights when nothing would go right for the Indians offensively and Belcher was the only man in double figures with 19. The Tribe shot a mere 36 percent to the Bulldogs 60 percent. And 33 turnovers, the Indians' highest number of the season in one contest, didn't help things any.

A balanced scoring attack allowed the Indian round-ballers to capture their first conference game with a 86-79 conquest of UTA in a see-saw battle. Breedlove poured in 24, and Brooks, Belcher and Rowland put in 17, 16 and 14 respectively.

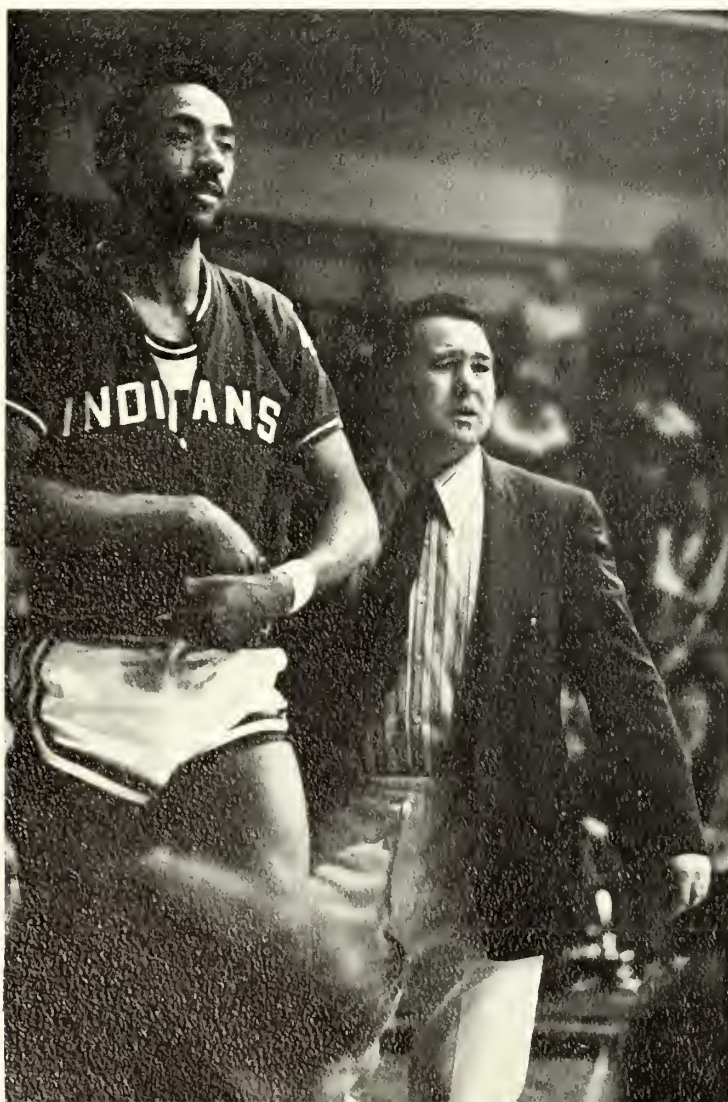

The Tribe made it two conference victories in a row when they bested the Abilene Christian Wildcats, 95-72 in Indian Field House. They surprised the unsuspecting Cats with a running game which enabled them to jump to an early lead and they never trailed in the tilt.

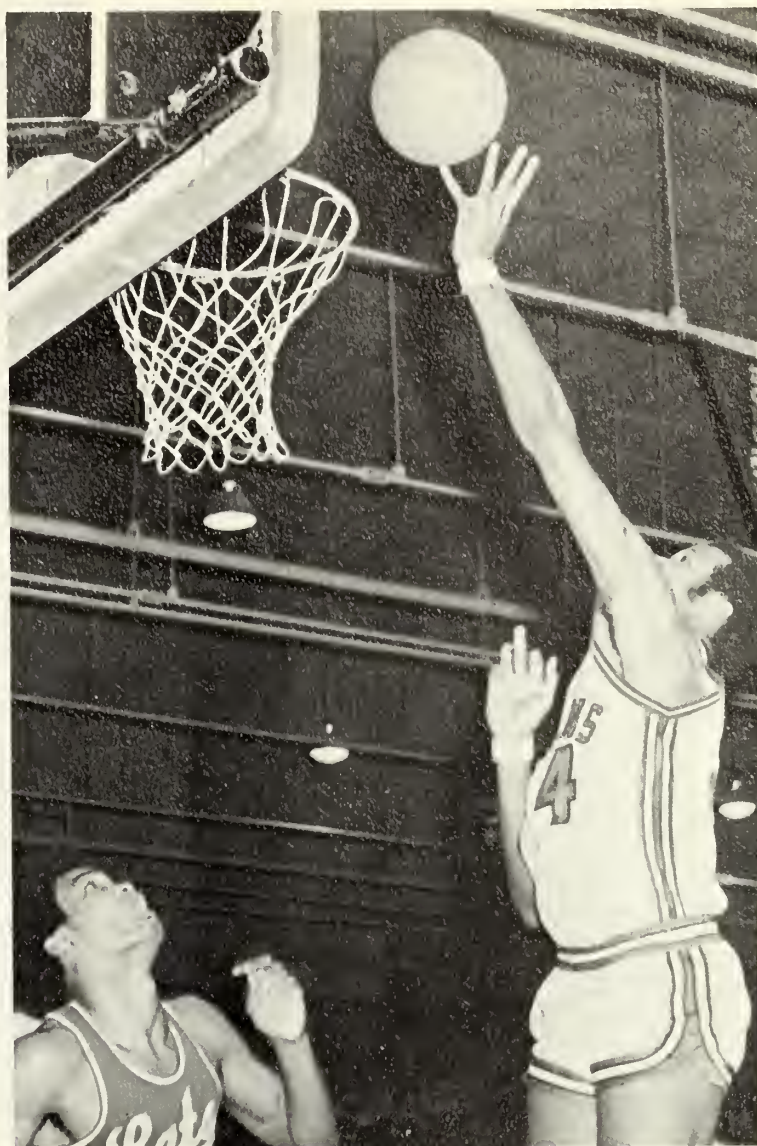

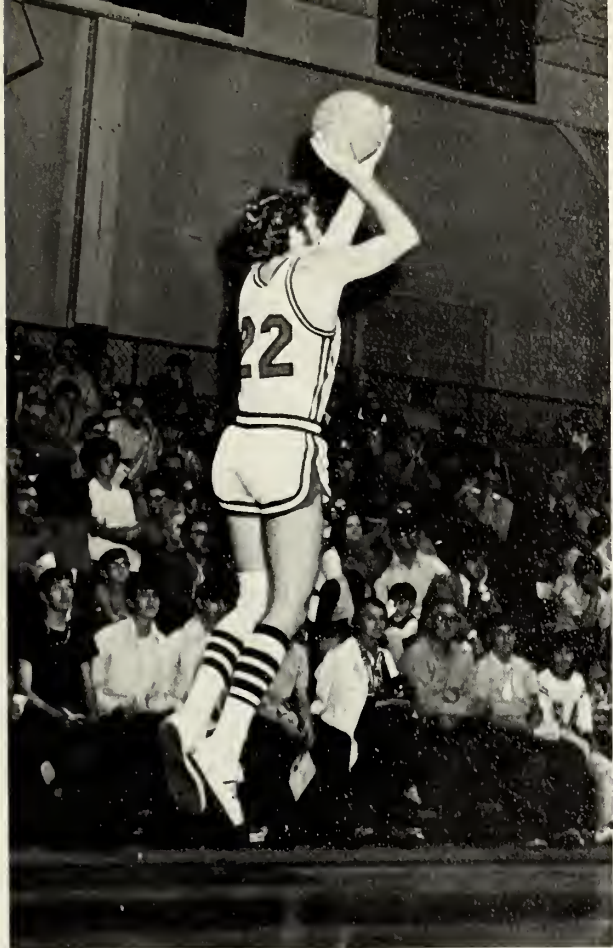

Rowland was the bright spot for the Indians collecting 24 points and nine rebounds on twisting drives and floating jumpers.

Tulsa spoiled the cagers' victory though, when they dumped the Indians by 26, 86-60, on the road. The Tribe followed an earlier pattern and committed turnovers that made Tulsa's job easy.

Danny Sullivan (above left) gets set to release a jumper from out front while Belcher (above) shows Abilene's Willie Calvert that he can use both hands around the bucket. Calvert (left) displays the same feat over Schuler Rowland and Coach Rose (below) consults with Webber.

Indians Drop Four Straight

During the latter half of the season, due to that old nemesis — turnovers, the Tribe even had trouble winning at home. And Pan American University started the Indians downhill when they upended them 82-80 behind a first half 52 per cent shooting clip.

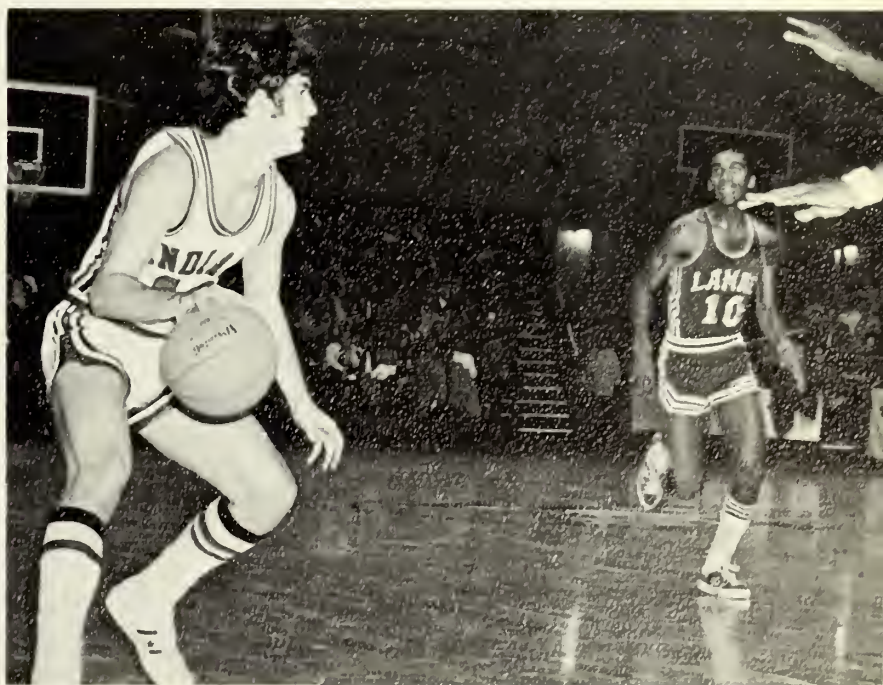

Visiting the Oklahoma Sooners only served to even the Tribe's record at 8-8 as the sure handed Oklahomans bettered the foul prone Indians at the charity stripe to capture the contest 62-53 hitting 16-20 from the line.

When the nation's leading scorer, Dwight Lamar and Southwestern Louisiana hit Indian Field House, the Indians made one accomplishment — they held them way below their 104-point per game average.

Having an off night, Lamar collected 30 against the Indians as he put in only 12 of 33 field goal attempts but sank six of six free throws. The Indians made the Cajuns play their type of game for the first half until USL sophomore center, Roy Ebron, came alive to send them to the dressing room with a comfortable 42-33 lead. From there, it was all over for the Tribe.

Lamar University made it four in a row and 2-2 in conference play for the Indians when they beat them at their own control game and hung on to a hard earned 85-76 win before a skimpy crowd of 1,800.

Webber (right) almost has his shot blocked by a USL player while Belcher (below) seems to be passing this one to the camera man. Rose (lower right) sets up the play.

Second SLC Title? No Chance!

With Southwestern Louisiana dominating the SLC, the Indians couldn't afford to lose many conference games and Trinity found this out when they suffered a 20-point crusher to the stronger Indians 84-64, making the Tribe 3-1 in conference play.

But the stunning quickness of the guards of SLC newcomer, Louisiana Tech, two nights later blemished the Indians shattering victory. The two Tech backcourt men combined for 70 points as they constantly harrassed the slower Indian guards for easy steals and combed in long ones in the handy 107-89 rout of the Indians.

And Texas-Arlington was not to let the Indians slip by them again. They rocked the Indians to sleep with a well balanced control game and then slipped by the Tribe, now 4-3 in SLC play, to claim the 75-71 squeaker. Brooks paced the Indians scoring attack with 24 points and 14 rebounds and Belcher added 17 and collected 11 rebounds.

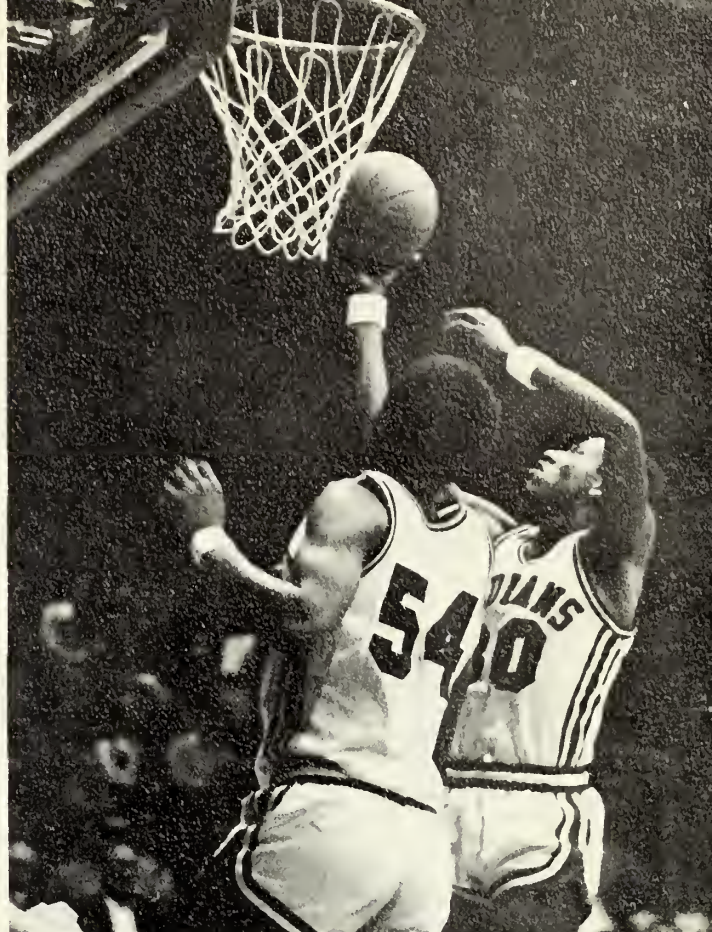

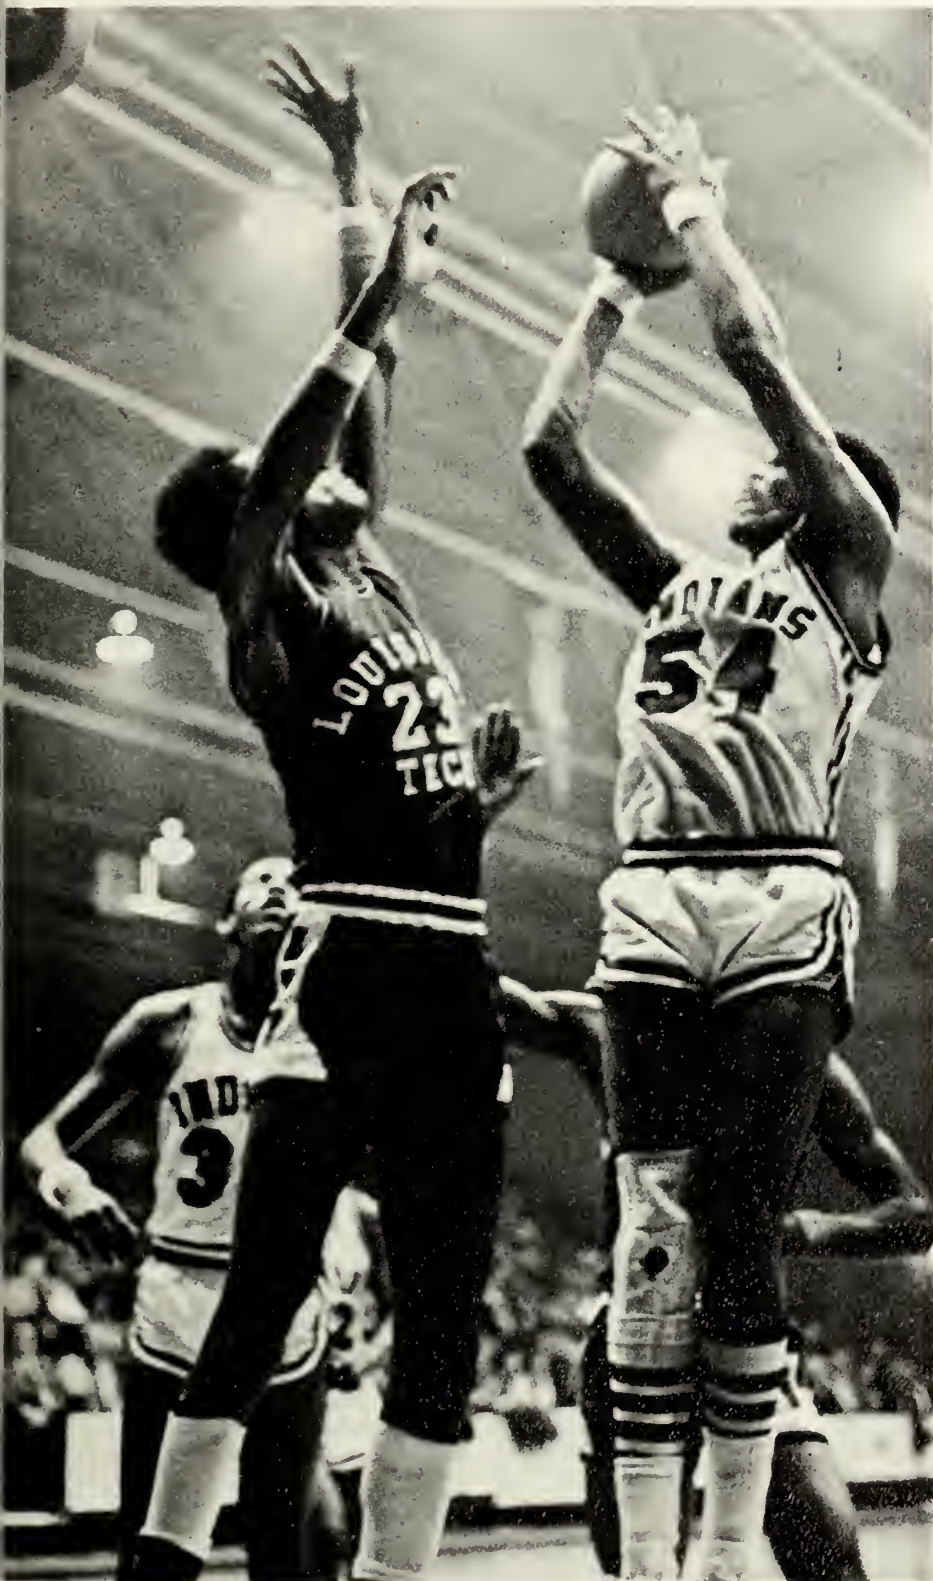

The Tribe managed to overcome Abilene a second time. This time the 79-72 upset came at Abilene. Calvin Breedlove almost single handedly dimmed the Cats hopes for a win when he kept pouring in the buckets in the clutch as other Indians went cold. Breedlove got 28 points, more than doubling the output of the next Indian.

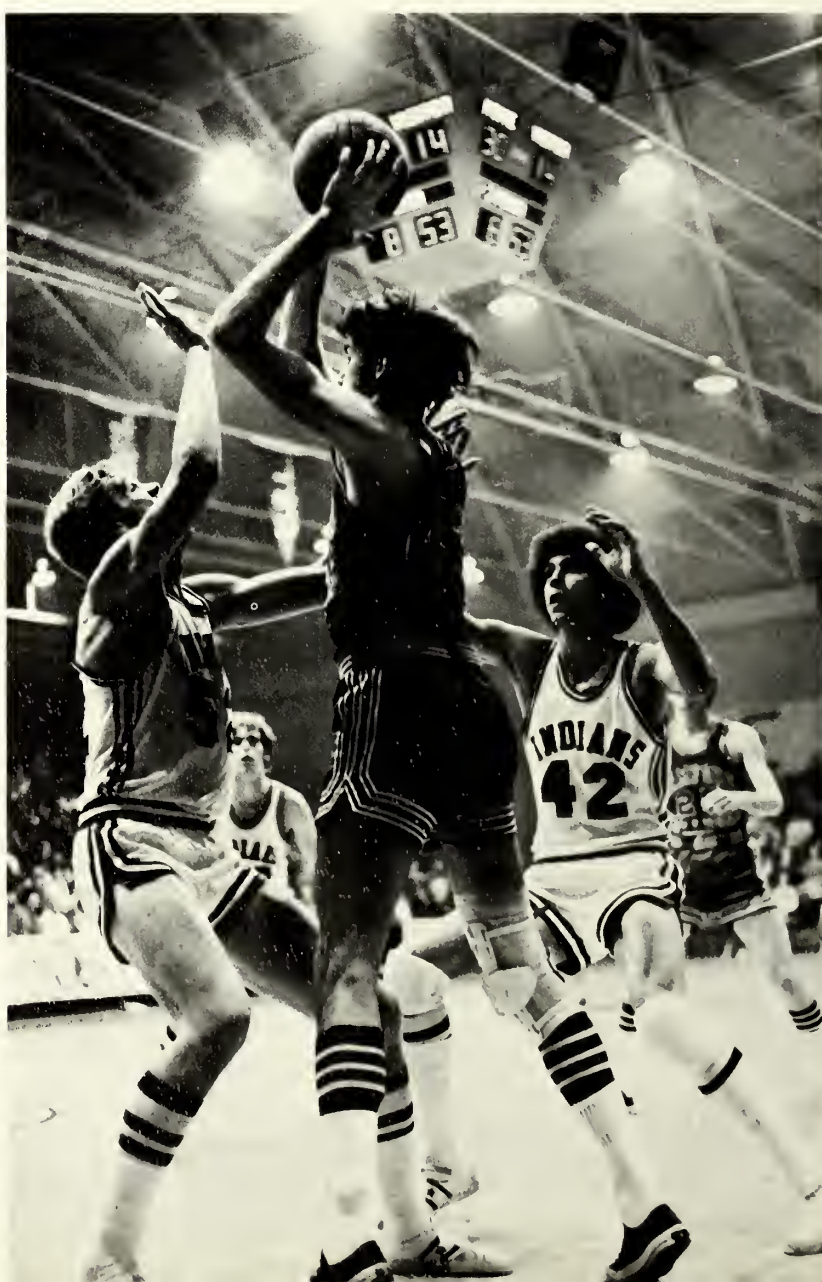

Coach Rose (above) tries to quench a nervous thirst while concentrating intensely on his charges' play. Breedlove (below) rides high above a Trinity opponent to get two of his 15 points he scored against the Tigers.

Belcher (below) shows his short jumper when he put out his best offensive performance of the season with 33 points. Rowland (right) prepares to lay one in over the rim as Belcher looks on and stands ready for the tip in if necessary. Belcher (lower right) flips in a drive over the back of a Louisiana Tech defender.

Webber (below) goes in for a backhand lay up over the front against Samford. Rowland (right) sights up the bucket on this jumper, while Brooks and Webber (lower right) apply pressure on defense.

Good Finish, Losing Season

Lamar Tech dropped the Tribe to 4-3 in conference play with an 87-71 road victory. Despite staying in close contention the first half, the Indians who were going the rest of the season without shooting ace Breedlove who was suspended from the team for insubordination, couldn't buck the turnovers and the outcome was evident.

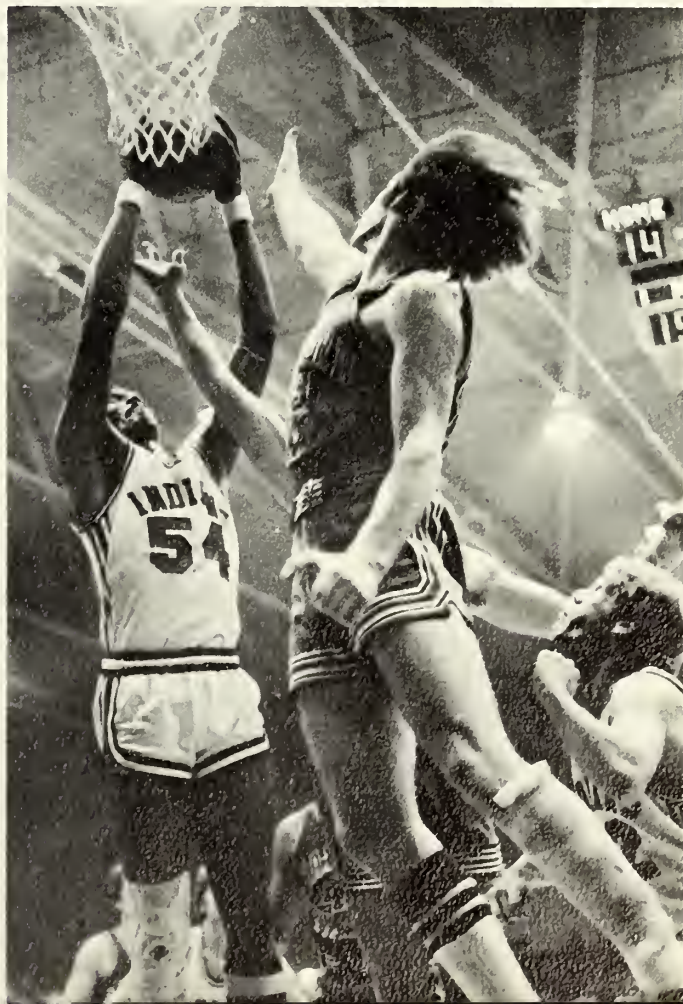

Finishing out the conference season with a 5-3 record was no problem to the Tribe as they put down Trinity for a second time 98-75 behind the 20-plus performance of Steve Brooks. Scoring at will, the Indians substituted freely and placed four men in double figures. All but one, for the second time in the season got on the books.

It was now time for Centenary to come to Indian Field House and play the part of the spoiler and they did a good job as they upset the sluggish Indians 88-85. The Indians moved slowly on defense which seemingly affected their offensive game and lost to the Gents in the closing seconds on free throws.

But the 12-14 season came to a close with a bang for the Tribe when they busted the clock on a weak Samford University club and went to the dressing room for the last time with a 101-80 finale. Belcher and Brooks combined for 58 points.

Ronnie Rose (above) strides for the bucket as he rounds Brooks on a drive. Belcher (lower left) draws a foul as he puts in a reverse lay up and takes a rebound (below) over the outstretched arms of a Samford opponent.

Indians Fade In '72

It wasn't the best of seasons, but Arkansas State didn't anticipate a national championship.

Coach John Rose looked back over his 12-14 season and found several satisfying moments. One of these was the sometimes great play of his young ball club which was often characterized by three sophomores in the starting lineup.

"One thing the season showed me," noted Rose, "was that you can't start three sophomores in our conference and expect to win. We've got to get better next year and add some experience to our lineup with a few junior college recruits."

Rose expected his club to do much better than 12-14, but he contributed much of the letdown to inexperience and lack of senior leadership.

"We made entirely too many turnovers," he emphasized. "Most of these were due to our trying to convert centers to forwards and a breakdown in our guard play. Against the press, we tried to rush things and made careless turnovers."

The Indians placed two members on the 1972 All Southland Conference team with Steve Brooks being named to the first unit and Belcher gaining the center spot on the second team.

Lonnie Webber afforded the Indians a bright spot when he led the conference in field goal percentage hitting 31-49 baskets for a .633 mark.

As for next season, the Tribe only loses four men off its '72 squad and only one of those, Belcher, was a starter.

With that kind of outlook for next season, it's hard to say what can happen. Just keep an eye open.

Braves Post Winning Season

One of the largest and quickest freshman teams that the Indians have produced in years fell short of expectations but still upended several tough opponents for a successful 13-9 season.

The Braves were paced by shifty Don Scaife and team catalyst J. H. Williams in the backcourt, and 6-9 Gary Scott along with 6-8 Rick Dearing provided the scoring punch inside. Jay Harbison handled things at the forward spot for the young Indian unit.

The speedy and aggressive Braves bested such opponents as Christian Brothers, Memphis State, Phillips County Junior College, Lamar University and Arkansas College.

Progressing to a winning season, the Braves finished second in the SLC freshman tournament in Abilene when they outlasted Lamar 71-67, but dropped the big one by 20 to the host Wildcat freshman, 90-70.

"This year's freshman team is one of the most promising that we've had in a long time," commented assistant coach Herb Slate. "We're expecting big things out of this group of boys."

For some of the more promising players, that could be an understatement.

Staff + Hard Work → Yearbook

Working on yearbooks has become just another part of school like classes and tests. This book is the sixth one that I have worked on, and I'm not sure I know anymore now than I did on the first one in high school. With three strikes against me (being a girl, a chemistry major and a junior), I was always being teased. But all those troubles seem to fade when I see these 416 pages in print and my name at the end.

The hard work and patience of our advisor, Tom Manning made this yearbook possible. We had many changes in the staff this year, and as a result, Tom had much more than his share of the load. Tom very quickly trained Debbie McGough, the university editor, and they turned out an outstanding section. I never knew what Tom said about me after I left the room, but he was always great when I made silly mistakes. Thanks only to him I learned to use that helpful device known as the proportion wheel so that my pictures only had to be cropped once.

Don Jones, the assistant editor, wasn't seen too often at the Wednesday night meetings, but he always popped in with his pages completed. Maybe he did them somewhere down the road. I wish Don a lot of luck next year, and I hope that he makes all the changes that he is planning. I really appreciate all the advice as a journalism major he gave me because I surely needed it.

A larger than ever class section was produced by Sheila Boxley with the help of Tricia Fagan and Beverly Wise. Sheila had loads of fun writing the cutlines for the pictures after she found them. She also helped me stand up against all the men. Tricia worked very hard typing the copy and the index.

Larry Reeves, the sports editor, completed an excellent section and made some changes that I was very happy to see. He had some help drawing up the layouts, but they still turned out fine.

Larry O'Dell, the activities editor — well I don't know Larry too well; he didn't come to many of the meetings. I think maybe he did his work at the same place Don did. His pages came in okay, but he sure scared us on every deadline.

Our photographers have worked hard this year like any other year. Tom Moore, head photographer, did a good job coordinating their work every night until nine o'clock. Along with Tom, Brent Griggs (Snowcone Man), Bill Sadler (Cookie Man), Randy Davis and Ralph Joseph kept busy filling out last minute picture lists. They got a few shots from different angles this year like down hillsides, from roof tops and in flower fields.

Working on the staff has been an experience I can never forget. I enjoyed most of it, except when they drove me into a cul-de-sac like the top shelf of cabinets. I have tried to present the university in terms of the people that comprise it, and I hope that they like it. Irregardless, a Goodtime was had by all.
